KEY MEASURES UP FOR ACTION

Half Dozen Important Problems Ready for Congress Showdown.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11 — Months of scattered skirmishing over major wartime problems reached the pitched-battle stage on half a dozen key points in the capital today in the wake of a peaceful interlude at the White House last night.

Frowning on federal aid and executive control, congress set out to write its own post-war planning formula

Republicans sounded the call to arms in behalf of the Ruml tax plan amid indications the skip-a-year scheme might succeed yet.

The senate struck the first legislative blow to solve the manpower puzzle by voting on farm labor deferment

The long-brewing battle over the President's salary limitation order hit the house floor in the form of a repealer.

Mopping up controversial suggested amendments congress aimed to complete action on renewing lend-lease for another year within the week

Labor shortages appeared likely to force revival of a revised industrial concentration plan re-

1,000 Pounds of Hosiery Donated in Marion

Marion housewives have contributed more than 1,000 pounds of nylon, silk and rayon hosiery to be reclaimed and used in the war effort, salvage officials reported today.

Fourteen down-town retail stores set up collection boxes for hose, and approximately 900 pounds was collected in this manner The Retail club of Harding High school, composed of students studying distributive education, collected more than 200 pounds

Approximately 900 pounds has already been sent by the larger retail stores to a subsidiary of the Defense Supplies Corporation in New York. The remainder is being collected by the city service department and will be shipped early next week

The retail committee in charge of the collection is composed of A L Bintz, Howard Stoll and R. H. Senarist

Bucyrus Pilot's Plane in Collision with Duck

What happens when an airplane and a bird collide" Lieut. Iver J Miller 25, of Bucyrus a bomber pilot at March Field, Calif., can answer, that one.

In a recent letter to his mother, Mrs. Sadie Miller, of Bucyrus, he told of piloting, alone, a bomber on a test flight. A wild duck got into the plane's path. It crashed through the windshield, smashing the windshield and Lieut Miller's goggles and slashing his face with broken glass.

Just then he went into a fog bank and by the time he came out of that his face was so bloody he could scarcely see where he was flying. Half an hour later he landed the plane safely. His bloody face and blood stained clothes led ground crew men to fea, for his condition, but a little medical attention and fresh clothes patched up most of his trouble.

REDS REPORT NAZI DEFENSE CRUSHED AGAIN

Russians Retake 44 Towns and Drive Within 80 Miles of Smolensk.

By The Associated Press

Soviet headquarters declared today the Red armies on the central front had captured at least 44 towns and villages, crushed stiffening German resistance and advanced within 80 miles of Adolf Hitler's old headquarters at Smolensk.

Although virtually out-flanked by the Red army's capture of Bely, the Nazis were battling desperately to defend their grip on the key bastion of Vyazma, 135 miles west of Moscow, the last major barrier on the road to Smolensk.

Russian shock troops were reported within 13 miles of Vyazma at the nearest point, and a communique said more than 20 towns fell to Soviet forces operating in the vicinity. In addition, "several dozen" villages were engulfed in the Bely sector, 70 miles northwest of Vyazma.

Kharkov Front

On the Kharkov front, 400 miles below Moscow, Red army headquarters said the Germans were continuing to throw great masses of reserves into their come-back offensive against the "Soviet Pittsburgh," but so far the battle appeared to be indecisive.

Hitler's high command said the Germans had driven closer to Kharkov and "the battle is still being waged at the northern and western edges of the city."

Berlin claimed two days ago that Nazi shock troops were only 12 miles from the big Ukraine steel center, whose recapture by the Nazis would threaten the middle of a 400-mile front in southern Russia.

Frontline dispatches said the Russians beat off a series of violent Nazi tank and infantry assaults south and southwest of Kharkov, killing 800 Germans and destroying 26 tanks in one sector and wrecking nine tanks in another.

The Soviet command said a "ferocious engagement" was developing south of Kharkov.

A soviet communique said the Germans hanged a group of Italian soldiers in the public square of a town after beating up a trainload of satellite troops because they refused to fight.

On the Tunisian front, Gen. Sir

3 MEN ADRIFT 83 DAYS IN ATLANTIC

Trio Rescued After Ship Went Down Nov. 24.

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla., March 11—A young seaman, one of three men who drifted 83 days on a life raft after their ship was torpedoed in the south Atlantic, arrived here safely to tell of the epic struggle against the sea.

Basil D. Izzi, navy gunner, of South Barre, Mass., related the story, describing how their daily prayers were answered by showers of rain, and by birds and fish which came close enough to be caught for food

"I knew God was with me all the way," Izzi declared He and his companions, two Dutch merchant seamen, survived the longest journey on a life raft recorded since the war began.

Two others, Ensign James Maddox of Lafayette Ind., and George Beasley, both of the U. S. navy, died during the trip and were given sea burial

The ship, a United Nations freighter, was torpedoed Nov. 24.

County Short of War Bond Goal in February

Marion county fell short of its February quota of sales of Series E war bonds by $89,426.25, according to figures received today by the Marion county war bond staff

Sales last month amounted to $163,293.75, whereas the quota announced the first of the year was $252,720. The county's sales were tabulated at the regional war bond office in Cleveland.

The county has been given the same quota, $252,720 for March.

PLAQUES FOR CITIES

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 11 — Plaques are to be awarded the seven Ohio cities with the greatest traffic safety achievements in 1942 at a dinner here April 22, the state highway department announced today. The winners have not yet been announced.

Defense Officials Issue Tonight's Countywide Dimout Instructions

Homes and Business Places To Be Blacked Out; Only Street, Vehicle and War Factory Lights To Be On.

The 425 square miles which make up Marion county will be virtually blacked out in the first countywide dimout some time tonight.

The county area will be in darkness except for downtown street and traffic lights in Marion and in all the villages of the county, automobiles moving with headlights dimmed, and the lights of industries engaged in war production.

Here are the instructions for residents and civilian defense workers of Marion city

Two-minute blast by factory whistles, together with telephone calls, will mobilize civilian defense units.

About 30 minutes later a second two-minute blast of factory whistles will be the signal for lights to be extinguished in the residential area and in the downtown area, including neon signs, store window lights and out-door signs.

Station WMRN will broadcast the "all clear" signalling the end of the dimout.

As far as occupants of buildings are concerned regulations for the dimout will be the same as those for a blackout Only as a safety measure have a few downtown street lights and dimmed automobile headlights been authorized.

Authorities will cooperate with CD officials. Most communities, including Marion, have ordinances which make violations punishable by fines or imprisonment, or both.

Civilian defense officials today urged residents of the city and county to keep tuned to Station WMRN tonight in order to follow developments of the dimout and to get the "all clear" signal.

Each village CD council has arranged its own signal system and residents of the communities will follow their council's instructions.

Inspections Planned

Two members of the Marion CD council will inspect each community in the council and will file a report at the control center in the old North State Street school.

In Marion city and township the inspection will be made by the auxiliary police, under Police Chief William E. Marks and D J. MacDonald.

Assignments out in the county are as follows:

Caledonia area, including Martel, Claridon and Kirkpatrick, William R. Martin, city coordinator, and W. R. Reichenstein.

Waldo, Cecil W. Gabler and E J. Beer.

Prospect, L. G. Jones and Jay Newell.

LaRue-Agosta-Meeker, Charles Howard and Jewell Ralston.

Green Camp, O. E. Hamilton and Jack Danner.

Morral, Mrs. Ione Lane and W. E. Orcutt

The inspection reports will be made in duplicate, one for the community CD council and one for the Marion control center, and will be for future reference on improvement.

Scope of Reports

The reports will show the enrollment of each unit of the council, the number on duty, the time required to mobilize, the grade of efficiency—good, fair or poor—adequateness of equipment, whether each member has been

REPORTS VALUE OF LEND-LEASE

Goods Worth Nearly Ten Billions Provided by U. S.; Bill Goes to Senate.

(Lease-Lend Chart on Page 16)

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11 — Overwhelmingly approved by the house, the bill to extend the lend-lease program another year reached the senate today along with a report that this help to other nations fighting the axis now totals $9,632,000,000.

The report, by Administrator E. R. Stettinius Jr., said this figure was attained by transfer of $1,077,000,000 worth of lend lease goods in the quarter ended March 1.

"Almost as much aid was provided in the last six months as in the previous 18 months," he said, adding:

"In the last 22 months we shipped to our allies, under lend lease or in fulfillment of previous direct purchase contracts, 30 out of every 100 bombers we produced, 38 out of every 100 fighter planes, 38 out of every 100 light tanks and 33 out of every 100 medium tanks."

Whether the senate can get around to consideration of the extension bill today was uncertain, but on the basis of the 407 to 6 vote by which it swept through the house yesterday it appeared likely it would be ready for the President's signature within a week.

Stettinius said four-fifths of the total aid was provided in the year of lend lease, which began March 11, 1941.

He told congress 60 per cent of the transfers in the last quarter were munitions with a value of $1,175,000,000, that agricultural products made up 16 per cent, and industrial materials 24 per cent

Stettinius noted a shifting of lend lease aid from the United Kingdom, which received 68 per cent of all shipments in the first year, to other areas

Percentages of total shipments for the second year:

United Kingdom 38 per cent;

Forces in Africa Shape Up for Bitter Fight To Finish

Germans, Beaten Back on Every Side, Now Must Hold To Delay Allied Blow at Europe.

By WES GALLAGHER
AP War Correspondent

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, March 11—A battle rivalling the struggle at Stalingrad in bitterness and intensity—with Field Marshal Erwin Rommel and Col. Gen. Jurgen Von Arnim threatened by the same fate as their Nazi counterparts in Russia—appeared in the offing today as the British Eighth army made exploratory stabs at Rommel's forces in the Mareth line.

This is the conclusion reached by some military observers in close touch with the African fighting. They agree Rommel's failure to cripple the Eighth army in his week-end attacks was a serious blow and declare his heavy losses in men and material mean the axis has reached the peak in Tunisia and is on the down grade.

Situation Takes Shape

After four months of fighting these facts were becoming evident

1.—With the royal navy controlling the sea and allied air forces holding the whip hand in the air no Dunkerque is possible for the axis and the only alternative is that Rommel and Von Arnim fight to the finish in the manner of the Nazi army trapped before Stalingrad.

2.—American bomber sweeps over the Mediterranean and surface and submarine warfare are cutting heavily into Rommel's strength while gigantic allied convoys arrive safely, pouring in troops and munitions.

3. Despite his violent struggles, Rommel still is in an exposed strategic position, facing the experienced Eighth army in one direction and with the newly battle-tempered British-American First army on his flank ever ready to slice his slender thread of communications south from Bizerte to the Mareth line

4.—Tunisia must be cleaned up quickly or the whole allied Medi-

Voluntary Military Drill Set for Boys in Marion's Schools

Scheduled To Start Next Wednesday; Some County Schools Also Entering Nationwide Program.

Voluntary military drill for boys of Marion's public and parochial high schools will start next Wednesday.

A part of the "Victory Corps" program for high schools of the nation, plans to start the drill in Marion were outlined yesterday when men of Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, met with Rev. Father William J. Spinkerman of St Mary Parochial school and Supt E E Holt of the public schools

The drill program already has been started in several county schools and others have indicated interest in installing the program

The U. S. office of education has designated the American Legion to take over the military drill section of the "Victory Corps" program.

Chairman Named

E M. Breitnaupt, county commander of the Legion, has appointed Robert Brown as county chairman.

Yesterday Mr. Brown and Ernest Williamson, first lieutenant in the Marion Ambulance Corps, met with the boys of Harding High school and 120 signified interest in the drill. At Thomas A Edison Junior High school, where sophomore and junior year boys are enrolled, 31 were interested after a talk by the two men.

Forty-eight boys of St. Mary Parochial High school indicated they desired to enroll Earl West, a member of Bird-McGinnis post, visited the school.

Next Wednesday night at 7:30 all interested boys will meet in the Armory for the first drill.

Mr. Brown this morning emphasized that boys must have their parents' written consent before they will be accepted for training

Sophomore, junior and senior high school boys in the city schools may enroll for the military exercises, which will stress close order drill exactly as it is practiced in the Army.

Value Emphasized

"It is advance training for the boys before they are called into service," Mr Brown explained. "A little knowledge of military drill before they go into training will give them much ease of freshness in military life and that extra bit of training may mean the difference between coming back and not coming back from the war."

In the county 28 boys are enrolled at the Pleasant Township

STIMSON SAYS TRAP CLOSED ON GERMANS

Giraud and Gen. Clerc's Forces Make Contact.

By The Associated Press

Secretary of War Stimson said today Fighting French troops had made contact with other French legions in a flanking movement around the southern end of the Mareth line in Tunisia, thereby sealing the trap on 250,000 axis troops under Field Marshal Erwin Rommel.

Stimson said Gen Le Clerc's Fighting French columns, who had driven more than 1,200 miles across the desert from Lake Chad in the heart of equatorial Africa, closed the ring around the axis by contacting Gen Henri Honore Giraud's French forces.

Stimson's disclosure was linked with the statement that allied forces in the Tunisian battle theater "had much the better of the fighting last week," but he said that losses on both sides had been substantial.

The war secretary told newsmen at Washington the allies had captured more than 1,000 German and Italian prisoners and destroyed well over 100 tanks

On the Russian front, Hitler's high command asserted Nazi shock troops were battling "on the edges" of Kharkov, in the Ukraine, while in the north the Russians reported impressive new gains.

The heaviest American losses he said, occurred in the week of Feb. 15-20—the period of the American retreat and initial counter-attack on the central front—when casualties were 58 killed, 176 wounded, and 4,007 missing Most of the missing,

MORGAN IMPROVES

BOCA GRANDE, Fla., March 11—John Pierpont Morgan, head of the world famous banking firm, continued to show improvement today from a heart ailment with which he was stricken on his way here for a vacation. Attending physicians said the 75-year-old financier was regaining his strength slowly.

RAIDERS HIT 10,000 TONS A MONTH RATE

Commons Also Told Million Germans Made Homeless in Air Attacks.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 11 — The RAF's ceaseless bombing offensive, now showering German Europe with fire and explosives at the rate of more than 10,000 tons a month, has wrecked more than 2,000 German factories and left more than 1,000,000 Germans homeless, Air Minister Sir Archibald Sinclair told the house of commons today.

Declaring photographic reconnaissance showed the raid on Essen, home of the Krupp arsenals, on the night of March 5-6 "probably was the heaviest blow struck at German war industry in the whole of the bomber offensive," Sinclair reported 4,000 tons of bombs had been dropped on the reich this month.

The devastation at Essen, he said, was comparable only to that caused at Cologne last May in the first of the RAF's 1,000-bomber raids.

Direct damage to steel works in the Ruhr and Saar, he declared, had cut 1,250,000 tons from Germany's annual steel-making capacity.

Damage to the Phillips radio works at Eindhoven, Holland, cost the Germans the loss of millions of radio tubes annually, a critical loss in modern warfare, he added.

February Big Month

The 4,000 tons of bombs dropped in the rising offensive in March compared with 10,000 tons dropped in the short month of February, greatest month yet for the RAF, when 1,000 tons of bombs were dropped on three different nights,

Promising even greater exertions by the RAF, Sinclair added a statement which seemed an indirect answer to criticism of the United States army air force's day bombing policy.

"The Americans are lion-hearted, skillful fighters," he said. "Their methods are a complement to our own. They are precious and welcome allies. The more American bombers come to take part in the air offensive, the better we shall be pleased and the sooner the malignant power of Germany will be broken."

Sinclair, in introducing an air ministry appropriation bill also announced the creation of an RAF transport command.

The new command is expected to be a counterpart of the United States transport command whose activities in building a round-the-world air system have caused grave concern in Britain over the British post-war position in commercial air competition

Sinclair also informed the country more than 10 per cent of German aircraft which in the last three months attempted weak reprisals for RAF bombings had been shot down Such a loss rate is generally considered almost prohibitive for an attacking air force.

Sinclair said 16 of 392 enemy planes which crossed the British coast in daylight during the last three months were definitely destroyed Twenty-six of 240 which crossed at night were knocked down.

The air minister said this was nearly three times the rate of loss of British aircraft attacking Adolf Hitler's Europe.

From the beginning of battle of El Alamein in Egypt on Oct 23, to the end of February, 1,075 enemy aircraft have been captured in Egypt and Libya besides 402 destroyed in combat, he added.

British and American airforces in northwest Africa have destroyed an additional 767 enemy planes against losses of 171 of their own, he said.

Next Coffee Ration Will Be Increased

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11 — Coffee rations will go back to one pound for five weeks beginning March 22.

Price Administrator Prentiss Brown announced the increase today, saying the "welcome news to tens of millions of American coffee drinkers is made possible by the improvement during the past few weeks in the import situation."

The current ration is one pound a person for six weeks. The next coffee stamp, No. 26, in ration book No. 1 which also is used for sugar and shoes, will be valid between March 22 and April 25.

Brown said the increase amounted to 16 per cent and explained "coffee imports for February have exceeded estimates by more than 20 per cent, adding substantial amounts to previously depleted January inventories of approximately 145,000,000 pounds."

Husbands Guests at Class Meeting

Husbands of members were guests at a meeting of the Adult class of Bowersock Methodist church Tuesday night with Rev. and Mrs. S. M. Ingmire on East Center street. Devotions were conducted by L. S. Ivey and the guests were welcomed by the president of the class, Mrs. C. H. Schaffer.

The program consisted of group singing with Mrs. Morris Kline at the piano, a clarinet solo by Robert Knecht accompanied by Mrs. Hooper, a vocal solo by Mrs. Frank Burns accompanied by Mrs. Kline, several original skits by Mrs. Jennie Furman, readings by Mrs. Purl Knechel and a book review of "In His Steps" by Mrs. Dale Lawrence. Rev. Ingmire offered prayer.

The committee in charge of the meeting included Mrs. Schaffer, Mrs. D. A. Brown and Mrs. C. R. Ranfilt.

Westminster Guild To Sponsor Services

Plans were made to sponsor the Sunday evening church services until Easter at a meeting of the Westminster guild of Forest Lawn Presbyterian church, Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Jane Jones of 406 Girard avenue. Miss Virginia Jackson was an associate hostess. Miss Ruth Wasserbeck conducted devotions and for roll call the members gave Bible quotations. Officers, headed by Miss Jackson as president, were installed. Miss Wasserbeck read a letter from Mrs. Garner Cox, a former member living in California. Mrs. Hazel Williamson presented the topic, "Trails Into Banana Land" and the subject of a paper by Miss Alleta Lindsay was "Japan." Miss Elaine Smith and Miss Virginia O'Dowd won contest honors. A St. Patrick's day theme was carried out in the refreshments.

Since 1906 the British infant mortality rate has fallen from 154 to 53 per thousand.

Wanted; 20,000 Adult Leaders for Girl Scouts

GOOD SCOUTS: A leader and her charges.

By GLADYS DEGNER
Associated Press Writer

"A million or more by 1944."

That is the goal of the Girl Scouts, who announce a current membership of nearly 600,000 on their thirty-first anniversary.

Enrollment of 400,000 new Girl Scout members means a need for at least 20,000 adult leaders. And so the organization is appealing to community-minded women throughout America to organize troops in their own neighborhoods.

Many communities, the organization claims, have long waiting lists of girls from 7 to 18 years who are anxious to be Girl Scouts. Often the only hitch is the need for leaders—women who want to increase their contribution of the war effort. Instead of her own two hands, officials point out, a leader of a Scout troop has the hands of twenty or more eager young workers.

The organization has been under pressure from government agencies and social welfare and church groups for the formation of more troops to combat the country's threat of juvenile delinquency and to bring an organized effort of youth into war service. The first step, of necessity, is the recruitment of leaders.

To be a Girl Scout leader, a woman doesn't have to be a highly trained specialist or an unusually talented person. The important qualification is that she is interested in and likes girls of the age with which she will be working. She should be over 21 or old enough to enjoy the confidence of parents. She should know the girls and what they want in a leader. They will expect to find in her the very qualities she needs most to work with them: sincerity, imagination, resourcefulness, patience, maturity of judgment and a sense of humor.

Brown Bans Search of Homes for Food

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11—Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown said today he would not tolerate searching of private homes for violation of OPA regulations except in the most flagrant cases.

Brown reported racketeers posing as OPA officials had attempted in some cities "to seize stocks of canned goods by intimidating householders" and that "in one city there was a story that an OPA man had entered a home without permission to check up on a supposed failure to declare stocks of processed foods."

"I believe, of course, that all citizens have the right to be inviolate in their homes, and I will not tolerate the searching of private homes except in the most flagrant cases, such as where a house is being used to conceal black market operations, and where the full legal procedure of obtaining a search warrant is followed," Brown said.

Pensioner Ends Life with Shotgun Blast

Special to The Star

KENTON, March 11—Services were held in Forest this afternoon for Wilbur Tilbrough, 83, old age pensioner who ended his life with a shotgun Tuesday afternoon while Louis Price, a fellow occupant of the two-room house where Tilbrough lived, was in downtown Kenton. Coroner J. A. Mooney said Price discovered the body when he returned home. A suicide verdict was returned. Mr. Tilbrough had resided in the Forest community for many years, coming to Kenton 25 years ago.

BEAN IN BOY'S LUNG

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 11—Five-year-old Robert Lee Wickham was reported in "fairly good" condition after a kidney bean was removed from his right lung. The child's mother, Mrs. Miles Wickham of Caldwell, said the boy apparently swallowed the bean last November but the cause of his illness was discovered only yesterday in a Zanesville hospital. The child was brought here under an oxygen tent.

MUST DIE IN CHAIR

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 11—William Patrick Jennings of Youngstown must die in Ohio's electric chair March 31 for the fatal beating of James Oswald, 18, which occurred during an argument over an automobile collision last August. The state supreme court refused yesterday to interfere with an appellate court verdict upholding Jennings' conviction and fixed March 31 as the execution date.

STATE'S ASSISTANCE TO CITIES UNCHANGED

Senate Action Leaves Annual Subsidy at $12,000,000.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 11—The state's annual subsidy to local governments would be continued at $12,000,000 a year under a bill approved by the senate and sent to the house today.

Sen. Maurice W. Lipscher (D-Mahoning) sought unsuccessfully to have the amount increased to $17,000,000 a year on the ground that expenses of the cities and counties had increased heavily.

His Democratic floor leader, Sen. William M. Boyd of Cleveland, said he believed the voters approved the $12,000,000 figure when they reelected Gov. Bricker last November.

The measure was passed 31 to 1, with Lipscher casting the dissenting vote.

The senate also approved a bill to allow members of the armed forces to operate an automobile without a driver's license if they possessed a license before entering the service.

Another provision of the bill, intended to help merchants cope with a shortage of delivery men, would lower from 18 years to 16 the age limit for issuance of chauffeurs' licenses.

The bill will be considered next by the house.

Proposed legislation to authorize creation of a state highway patrol auxiliary, consisting of not more than 200 men, struck a snag when it came up for a vote in the senate, and action was postponed.

While the measure is intended primarily to make guards available for conservancy district dams, the phrasing would make possible the protection of only those dams on the state highway system, Sen. Theodore M. Gray (R-Miami) told the senate.

The bill was expected to be brought up again today with its language revised.

The house conservation committee killed a bill by Rep. Henry R. Metcalf (R-Franklin) proposing to increase the fishing license fee from $5 to $... The state conservation would the committee th... time to increase the fee.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.—Adv.

for VIGOROUS HEALTH and RICH RED BLOOD

Choose Nuco-Ferrin for Effective Results

The facts are simple because of all the conditions affecting the human body a "low blood count" is the most deceptive. If you feel run down, poor appetite, have lost weight — chances are if you restore these precious red-blood cells back to normal your troubles will be over.

In Nuco-Ferrin you go after the trouble in two ways. First you increase the appetite and better your stomach digestion in order to get more good out of the food you do eat. Secondly, thin, weak, watery blood is made rich and red again thus giving you the vigor and vitality you need for a healthful and happy life. Try Nuco-Ferrin today on a money-back guarantee. New Congressmen Report On Social Chat at White House

(President Roosevelt played host to the new congressmen last night at the White House. It was a social affair, but there were political aspects, too. For The Associated Press, two freshmen congressmen—one a Democrat, one a Republican—here report on the festivities. The Democrat is James William Fulbright, former president of the University of Arkansas. The Republican is Harris Ellsworth, publisher of the Roseburg, Ore., News-Review and former manager of the Oregon Newspaper Publishers association.)

A Democrat Reports

By JAMES WILLIAM FULBRIGHT

So long as human relations are the essence of government, Franklin D. Roosevelt will do alright.

At his informal reception to the new congressmen it was difficult for the most prejudiced to resist the influence of his enthusiasm, his confidence and his essential humanity.

To those who were already favorably disposed, he was quite up to the highest expectations.

It is always impressive to enter the White House from the east wing down the interminable corridors. Arriving a little late as chance would have it, I accompanied the exotic Mrs. Luce down the receiving line. She is quite human at an informal party.

In the magnificent state dining room, the President conversed with all the new congressmen in a thoroughly informal and intimate manner. He discussed freely his trip to Africa, the strategy in the Pacific and the progress of the war in general.

His evident optimism, without making any predictions, was heartening to everyone. He was in a rare good humor, which in itself was encouraging to perceive.

Speaker Sam Rayburn directed the proceedings tactfully and easily presenting the representatives to the President. Vice President Wallace and Hon. John W. McCormack (the majority leader of the house) added much to the easy flow of conversation.

Throughout the evening I could not help but think that here we have the true symbol of our democracy. The Chief Executive of the most powerful nation in the world joking and talking to the newest representatives of the people, many of whom, only six months ago, were on farms, in law offices, or small business throughout this land.

In spite of all the differences of opinion one may hear any day on Capitol Hill, one came away from this gathering with a feeling that there is a fundamental unity in this great democracy that in the crisis now faging the world, free men will prevail over the slaves of Hitler.

HORRIFIED BY SUB

By The United Press

WASHINGTON — Clara Barton, founder of the Red Cross, was probably the first woman to venture aboard a submarine, and the experience terrified her. When she took her two-mile underwater trip at a depth of 15 feet in June, 1889, she was awed at the deadly possibilities of the craft, she told John P. Holland, inventor of the submarine, who was her host. If he looked for congratulations he did not get them. She told Holland that she was greatly surprised that any American would invest any such lethal weapon. Her trip is described in an article in the U. S. Naval Institute Proceedings.

A Republican Reports

By HARRIS ELLSWORTH

Since the President sent out the invitations to the new members of congress to visit him at the White House there has been considerable speculation in the cloak rooms as to what sort of a party it would be. Conjecture ran all the way from the idea that political heat would be turned on to the belief that it would be a brief word with the President in a reception line—that the tired executive would then retire, and the members would talk among themselves over punch and cookies until signalled to leave.

The only single clue that appeared was what one member was told, in response to a letter accepting the invitation, that the occasion would be social.

That was correct. All other guesses were entirely wrong.

We gathered in the great east room at the White House. Speaker Sam Rayburn acted as M. C. (in this instance the letters meaning "master of ceremonies.") In single file we were ushered through a hall to the state dining room. The President greeted each of us with a friendly comment or question.

Shortly a small group gathered around the President. Seated up close, the conversation was free and friendly—it was an intimate and social affair. Everyone had a chance to get in at close range, ask questions and generally engage in the conversation. Some congressman was always ready with a light for the President's cigarette.

I think the one thing that impressed everyone—the one thing mentioned most in the crowd as we filed out—was the relaxed good health—and good humor—of the President. Take my word for it he is anything but a tired old man. No recent photograph of him tells the truth as I saw it. President Roosevelt does not appear tired. His coloring is good and he appears to be in excellent health. He obviously enjoyed the gathering. He talked freely and seemed willing to talk on any subject and to welcome any sort of question. We don't I am told ever directly quote the President but I may say that he talked with us, not only about the war—on all fronts—but about building a system of highways after the war—and a score of other things. Strangely enough, no one asked him about the fourth term. I guess they just did not think of it—I know I didn't.

If there was any deep political implication in the meeting I missed it. It seemed like just mighty good common sense to me—the idea of the Chief Executive of our country gathering new members of congress around him to get acquainted with them and for informal discussion. I do not think he charmed any followers away from the opposition—nor do I believe he had any particular intention along that line. He is very sure of himself—is certain he is right and obviously is not worried or really much concerned about what the other fellow thinks.

In bidding us good night—and he stayed until we left the room—the President joshed a bit about doing all of the talking—said he likes to talk—and I believe him.

Nothing quite like this has ever been done before I am told. Nor have the new members in this congress from both sides of the aisle met "socially" before. I approve heartily of both breaches of precedent—if that is what to call it. The whole thing was a bit symbolic of what we need in government to finish off this war job—more unity and less politics. A good time was had by all.

BELGIAN IN U. S. ARMY

By The United Press

CAMP POLK, La. — Pvt. Frank Herzl is training in the U. S. Army as the first step toward freeing his native Belgium. He was a Belgian soldier captured by the Nazis when his country was overrun. Returned home on parole, he escaped through France traveling 2,600 miles by foot, bicycle and on freight trains, his destination New York. He took out United States citizenship papers at once.

BOX FOR "GRIPES"

By The United Press

CAMP EDWARDS, Mass. — A soldier with a "gripe" can get it off his chest very easily these days. Strong "airing" is the recommended system. A "grievance box" has been installed where disgruntled men can flay their top-kick and offer criticisms or suggestions with anonymous safety. If officers feel further consultation will help the situation, they list the number on the envelope and have a private session with the complainant.

AXIS TROOPS TAUGHT TO OBEY BLINDLY

Former Austrian Officer Says They Need Driving.

By International News Service

FORT BENNING, GA.—A former Austrian officer, trained since the age of five for a military career, Officer Candidate Harry R. Graham of Fort Benning, warns against underrating the German or Japanese soldier.

Graham, now an American citizen, is the son of an English officer and an Austrian girl who lived in Vienna after World War I. In April 1938 when Hitler declared "anchluss" with Austria, he demanded students of the Klosterneuburger Officer Schule, in which Graham was enrolled, to swear allegiance to Germany.

Refusing, Graham was thrown into a concentration camp. He finally managed to obtain his release and then with his mother and step-father went to England. Later they came to the United States.

American soldiers are better equipped, better able to think for themselves, and have a higher morale generally than the solders of Germany or Japan, he says.

And the officer candidate speaks from experince. As a student, he frequently went on military observation missions. As a member of such missions, he visited Japan, China, Russia, Germany, Manchukuo, Italy, France, Spain and England.

"German soldiers probably are more highly trained, because they have been at it for many years—but they are taught blind obedience and cannot act when their leaders are gone. Such emphasis on blind obedience of rank and file is a deterring factor in the time of dire stress. An army so trained is all right when "victorius but when once forced to the wall and faced with mounting reverses, it will collapse like a bursting balloon," Graham concluded.

REPLACES "JUKE BOXES"

By The United Press

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — Trainees at the Army Air Forces base may or may not be sure they are getting canned food, but they do know they aren't getting canned music any more. The beach front hotel quarter dining rooms once more have a floor show as in the old bathing beauty days—units of the post band have replaced squadron mess "juke boxes" to supply morale vitamins. Soldiers were warned by their officers, however, that that's as far as the resemblance goes. Chow time is still chow time. Army style, and soldiers are to eat and exit—no dawdling over food just to hear more swing.

WINS PROMOTION

By The United Press

SAN DIEGO, Calif. Sgt. James Jolly Plum Duff, Marine base bulldog mascot, celebrated his sixth birthday by being promoted to the rank of platoon sergeant. A cake was baked for the occasion with six wieners instead of candles. Duff was presented to the Marines several years ago by Mr. and Mrs. Frederic James of Philadelphia.

BRICKER TO OFFER NEW FARM PROGRAM

To Lay Plan Before Midwest Governors at Des Moines.

By The Associated Press

[illegible], March 11—A [illegible] farm labor [illegible] shortages will be [illegible] Bricker to chief [illegible] midwestern agri- [illegible] meeting at Des [illegible] Monday.

[illegible] the plan, recom- [illegible] the Ohio war agricul- [illegible] which predicted [illegible] 1943 Ohio farm [illegible] would drop 11 per [illegible] the 1942 level, was [illegible] surveys by state and [illegible] cultural agencies.

[illegible] the federal government [illegible] agriculture as a war [illegible] essential in securing priorities for equipment, supplies and manpower; release immediately farm machinery and equipment and supplies now in factories, branch houses and the hands of dealers so that it can be used by farmers in spring operations;

"Have the war production board immediately raise steel allotments for the manufacture of farm equipment to at least 50 per cent of 1941 production * * *; furlough skilled farm workers in armed services, unless they are already in foreign service or specialized training, before May 1, so they will be available for 1943 planting and harvesting;

"Eliminate red tape hampering the farmers' efforts to obtain machinery, material and supplies and free his time for productive efforts on the farm; lift restrictions immediately in time for spring planting season since indications are that ample nitrogen for fertilizer is available."

The committee informed the governor 11,000 Ohio farms would be abandoned this year and farmers had 36 per cent less hired labor and 24 per cent less family help than a year ago.

The group estimated approximately the same number of acres would be farmed this year as last but commented it would "not be farmed as well or as intensively."

Serious feed shortages can be expected next fall and winter if yields are normal and the same acreage is planted in 1943 as last year, the group asserted.

REXFORD G. TUGWELL, above, may be out of a job as governor of Puerto Rico if a request of President Roosevelt is granted by congress. The president has asked for legislation to permit the people of Puerto Rico to elect their own governor, now appointed by the President.

G. W. DEWOLFE TO ENTER FERRY COMMAND SERVICE

Leaving Friday for Special Flight Training.

George W. DeWolfe of Fairhaven road, salesman for the Osgood Co., will leave Friday for the Wilkinson Institute of Aeronautics in LeRoy, N. Y.

Mr. DeWolfe, who has a student pilot's license, will continue his flight training at the LeRoy institute, in preparation for entering the Army's "ferry command service." He will be at the institute about three months, during which time he will handle heavy planes. Upon successful completion of the training he will receive a commercial pilot's license, a prerequisite to entering the ferry command service.

His wife and two sons will remain in Marion.

Mr. DeWolfe's brother-in-law, Gerald Gray of Marysville, also is in the ferry command service, based at Detroit.

OWI Wins Bout With "Wild Bill" Donovan

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11 — President Roosevelt resolved in favor of the office of war information yesterday an undercover dispute between that civilian agency and the office of strategic services over which should control the propaganda offensive abroad.

By executive order, he gave Elmer Davis' office responsibility for the planning, development and execution of "all phases of the federal program of radio, press, publication and related foreign propaganda activities involving the dissemination of information."

White House Secretary Stephen Early said the office of strategic services, headed by Colonel William J. (Wild Bill) Donovan, would continue to handle military matters in cooperation with the army and navy. This office is a military operation, under the joint chiefs of staff.

LEGION POST WEAPON COMMITTEE NAMED

Three in Charge of Gathering Arms for Navy.

The American Legion drive to collect weapons for the U. S. Navy will be handled by a committee composed of E. M. Breithaupt, chairman, T. E. Kinnear and Clyde Porterfield. Their names were announced today by Albert Dripps, commander of Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162.

The Ninth Naval district at Chicago has informed the state department of the American Legion that there is an acute need in the Navy and Coast Guard for shot guns, rifles and revolvers of all descriptions, web cartridge belts and bayonets.

Marion county residents who have weapons to contribute may call a member of the committee or may leave the contributions at the Dugout on South High street any first Monday night of the month or any second and fourth Tuesday night of the month. The committee will arrange to collect any weapons that the owners cannot take to the Dugout.

The Awakening

APPARENTLY it is now the policy of the United States government to talk frankly about the Russian situation. Vice President Wallace and Admiral William H. Standley, our ambassador to Russia, have admitted the existence of misunderstanding and warned against the consequences of failure to overcome it.

The misunderstanding, which may not be a misunderstanding at all but plain, ordinary friction, has its source in the international revolutionary ambitions of Communism between World war I and Russia's participation in World war II. During that period, Russians were asked to believe that the United States was marked for extinction because of its adherence to capitalism. The Communist revolutionary organization with its headquarters in Moscow fomented trouble here, as it did also in all other capitalist countries, including Germany, where it helped to produce Adolf Hitler and his political gangsters. National Socialism purported to be a reaction from the chaos that was tearing Germany to pieces. Similar ideas were being produced in France and Great Britain by the systematic subversion of radicals sympathetic with or openly supported by the Russian Communists, though they failed to bring about the repercussions that panicked Germany into a counter-revolution under the murderous supervision of a paranoiac. Subversion ruined France and weakened Britain. But that and the menace of subversion in the United States were supposed to be unmentionable after Russia, attacked by Germany, became an enemy of the Axis. Later, when the United States entered the war against the Axis, Russia as an ally was entitled to full American support—even the support of those befuddled Americans of Russian sympathy who had sabotaged war production in this country while Russia remained officially friendly with Germany. That is the principal substance of the record that lies back of American feeling about Russia. What lies behind Russian feeling about the United States is largely conjectural; it consists in the efforts of all the propagandists who have tried to discredit the United States in the judgment of Russians. Currently, according to Admiral Standley, they are trying to make it appear that this country's lend-lease aid is of no great importance to the Russian war effort; that Russia alone deserves credit for the war against Germany; that it is "fighting alone." Vice President Wallace warns that the seeds of another war may lie in this lack of confidence.

Yet, Americans believe there is no insuperable difference between them and the Russians. They believe that the ideological differences defined by Communist doctrine are being absorbed in the common effort to overcome a common enemy. Our common sense and confidence in open discussion convince us it is possible to reach an understanding with the Russians, despite the conviction of Germany's Goebbels that an ideological wedge can be driven between the Anglo-American alliance and the Soviet Union. We are proceeding in the only way we know how to proceed as believers in free speech, which is to speak freely. We trust that our own awakening to the tremendous strength of Russia as a fighting nation will be duplicated by a Russian awakening to the goodwill toward Russia that has been jeopardized aboard by the policies of Communist agitators, but not destroyed. If it had been destroyed, there would be nothing to discuss now. Russia simply would be left to its own devices to work out its own security problem, without the fact or even the hope of outside assistance.

Unresolved Doubt

SECRETARY OF WAR STIMSON'S reasons for wanting a general service act are persuasive. In his latest speech in behalf of general conscription he says the Army hopes to shorten the war by bringing the nation's maximum power to bear as quickly as possible. Opponents, he says, are trying to avoid the inconveniences and sacrifices which would be involved in a more thorough and drastic reorganization of industrial and civil living for the duration of the war. If they prevail, however, they will add to the inconveniences and sacrifices by prolonging the struggle.

Secretary Stimson does not resolve the major doubt that blocks acceptance of universal conscription. He assumes that it would shorten the war, but does not explain how this would happen. He and all others trying to sell the idea of general conscription are offering a pig in a poke; they claim it's marvelous, but the public wants to see it. There is no magic in Washington. If universal conscription can shorten the war, it will be accepted overwhelmingly. But if it's just another paper plan to be muddled through, meanwhile sidetracking all efforts to utilize manpower by voluntary means, the effect might easily be to lengthen the war.

IN THE DUMPS.

Horton's Town Gloom is in a mellofahess now. He's too old to get into the military service, too dumb to get a defense job, too lazy to farm and too young to draw oldage assistance. He's sorry now he didn't run for office last fall.—Horton Highlight.

News Behind the News

Need Seen for Open Answers for Our Questions About Russia.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, March 11—This much we know about Ambassador Standley's accusation that Stalin has played down our billion and a half aid to Russia before his own people:

Standley is an adult personal representative of Mr. Roosevelt, and all such know enough not to criticize a diplomatic host without word from the boss.

It is difficult for any observer here to believe the old friend of the President would have dared to speak even the simple truths he did without authority. Of course, occasionally, diplomacy requires a government to officially deny what it unofficially knows to be true.

This much we know despite all the official and congressional efforts to becloud and smooth over the incident:

At Casablanca, Stalin was worse than absent. He was unrepresented, and he explained the vacuum he left there in a very peculiar way. He said he was busy fighting.

He left out all mention of American aid in his speech to the world last week, saying Russia was carrying the brunt of the fighting alone.

But more important to skilled phrase-fencers in the diplomatic world at this end, all Stalin's recent speeches have taken the position that he is not warring on Germany, that he has no intention of destroying Germany as a nation, or even Germany as a military power—but only Hitlerism.

These Moscow winds have sown the seeds of suspicion, not only here, but among all the American people, that Russia may be fighting for herself alone, and therefore might consider a different kind of peace than we would, perhaps an earlier one.

It is only simple, truthful reporting to set out these facts, none of which is secret, although the official reaction to Standley's very limited statement here was a beating of the bushes in congress demanding Standley's return.

Question in Open

Whether Standley returns is unimportant by comparison with the fact that he has thrown out into the open a situation which must be met by both Moscow and Washington fairly and honestly on the open table. The time for pretending by both sides has long since passed.

To let such seeds grow unnoticed under a plea that no questions should be asked concerning an ally, would only plant a real distrust which could never be adjusted. Open questioning brings answers and genuine understanding.

The only thing remarkable about Standley's views to me was their suggestion that while Russia knows everything going on in the United States and has $1,500,000,000 of our planes, tanks, etc., we know nothing about what is going on in Russia.

Stalin can easily prove that he is not fighting a war for himself and will not expect a peace for himself by his deeds in the immediate future — including the sending of an authentic representative to the coming Welles meeting here on the post-war world.

Post-War Purposes

The matter is of far greater importance to us than may yet be generally appreciated, because a number of our own people actually prefer Stalin's purposes to ours.

The Longshoreman's bulletin of the CIO No. 20, issued Feb. 24 at San Francisco, tells of a union meeting addressed by "Bro. B. B. Jones," a torpedoed American merchant sailor.

Mr. Jones related that all survivors from his torpedoed ship were picked up by a Swedish vessel "whose crew, seamen and officers were good rank and filers" (Red language for international Communists.) Bro. Jones counselled the workers:

"If the people want to win the peace, political action on a broad front must be gotten underway at once."

Then the bulletin concludes by saying:

"Bro. Jones pointed out why the Red army and Russian people were able to hand Hitler a licking was because the Russian workers own the means of production and did not have profiteers to hinder limited war production."

The allegiance of Bro. Jones and his sympathetic hearers, who now eagerly print his views, is obviously not primarily directed in this war toward winning for our way of life.

Confusion?

Most confusing aspect of Standley's observations was the simultaneous speech of Vice President Wallace, warning Americans they would never attain post-war peace "if they doublecross Russia."

Standley and Wallace seem to have the official shoe on opposite feet.

But juggling of shoes is the order of the day. Mrs. Roosevelt announced that fourth term talk should be cut off, because it would hurt the immediate war effort. Her friends, like Senator Mead of New York, who would not for the world say a word she would not want said, simultaneously indorsed the fourth term.

All the talk has been coming from such sources which are obviously convinced that despite what Mrs. Roosevelt said, she will not be displeased to any serious extent.

All thus seems to be confusion. But is it?

Today and Tomorrow

Gen. Giraud Reported Facing Problems, But Solutions Yet To Be Found.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

IN DECLARING that decrees signed at Vichy are, of course invalid in North Africa, Gen. Giraud has begun to face, though he has by no means solved, the fundamental problem which underlies the whole French political muddle.

It is not certain from the general's statement that he himself has as yet grasped the problem fully. He was declaring invalid two Vichy decrees affecting, as it happens, the status of Algerian Jews and the crucial point is that these decrees were signed by Marshal Petain on Oct. 19, 1942, before German occupation of the whole of France.

Gen. Giraud goes on to explain that "The German occupation has interrupted the free exercise of French sovereignty. We have to take the logical consequences. All that is necessary will be done."

Does he mean the German occupation of Paris in June, 1940, or does he mean the German occupation of Vichy in November, 1942?

If he means only the occupation of Vichy then on what ground are two decrees signed by Marshal Petain on Oct. 19 invalid? But if he means the occupation of Paris, then all Vichy decrees and the whole Petain regime have been illegitimate.

Giraud's Trend

It would appear that, though he invoked the authority of Marshal Petain when he first entered North Africa, now Gen. Giraud is moving toward the complete repudiation of Vichy. This week his official broadcasting station at Algiers described Marshal Petain's government as "this shadow government of prisoners and traitors."

If Gen. Giraud is crossing the Rubicon by repudiating Vichy and all its works, then the real problem of France is in front of him. By what authority do Gen. Giraud and his associates govern? To whom do they owe allegiance? By what right do they raise armies, wear the French uniform, carry the French flag and make war.

These are not abstract and academic questions. On the contrary, they are practical questions of great military and political consequence, and the failure to anticipate these questions, and to have coherent answers to them, is the reason why the movement toward French unity has been so sadly messed up.

Consider, for example, the case of the French battleship Richelieu and of the other naval vessels which have recently come to this country to be refitted and repaired. To whom do the officers who command these ships owe allegiance? Some, at least, believe they are bound by an oath of allegiance to Marshal Petain.

African Problem

The same problem exists on an even greater scale in respect to the French Army in North Africa which we have promised to equip.

There is only one possible solution to these puzzles. It is to restore formally and solemnly the constitution and the laws of the only legitimate French regime—namely, that of the Third Republic.

This has been done in all the French territory administered by the Fighting French and it will have to be done, and should long ago have been done, in North and West Africa.

There is reason to believe that the correct solution will eventually be reached. For much has happened behind the scenes since the president and the prime minister were at Casablanca, and not the least of the things that have happened is that new men have gone out to North Africa who know how the political business was bungled and how much will have to be done to repair it.

World's Longest

Totals of time and mileage run up in Rommel's flight from Libya have opened the world's eyes to the sweep of the battle of La Litoranea, 1,150-mile coastal highway "the world's longest battlefield," a National Geographic News bulletin declares. Linking Tunisia and Egypt, the road has carried the tide of the battle east and west as German and Italians pushed toward Alexandria only to be turned back by the British.

Construction of the Libyan stretch of the highway was opened to traffic in 1936. Old roads were used wherever possible, and the gaps filled in to make a continuous highway. About 500 miles of connecting roads were required.

The highway linked the strong naval bases at Tripoli, Homs, Bengasi, Derna and Tobruch, and greatly facilitated the garrisoning of the colony.

Bedrock Living Levels

First Proposals by WPB Contain Surprises.

By HERMAN ALLEN
Washington Correspondent

A CHORUS of gasps went up from American throats with disclosure of a "bedrock wartime economy plan" outlined by the WPB's Office of Civilian Supply. It proposed, tentatively, levels of civilian consumption of goods and services in the event of a long war. Not an invasion of the United States, or a state of siege—just a long war.

The report stated certain percentages of peacetime consumption, based on 1939 or 1941 in most cases. It sounded pretty grim, but I talked with a couple of fellows in OCS and Jimmy Byrnes' Office of Economic Stabilization, which asked OCS to prepare the report, and they cleared up two important things:

1. As it stands, the "plan" isn't a plan at all, but a starting point for study which may finally result in a plan. It is not a recommendation for action.

2. If a "bedrock" plan ever is put into effect, it probably will be a lot grimmer in most respects than the schedule now under consideration.

Proposals Devised Hurriedly

Actually, a good many of the provisions of the present proposal already are in effect. The reason is simple. The plan was gotten up in fairly much of a hurry—and pretty much in the dark in some respects—and there wasn't time to work out a really bedrock figure for all items. Nor was Byrnes really concerned about getting an absolutely final figure at that time.

"All we wanted," a spokesman for his office told me, "was something that we could pass around among all the agencies involved and say 'What do you think of this?' Likely as not, they'll disagree—but that's just what we want to know. We want to get them started thinking about it and working on it. We're just giving them a starting point for their figuring."

Manpower Considered

In the case of non-durable toys and recreation equipment, for instance, the tentative bedrock estimate was more hasty than most others. OCS just took the present situation, as reflected by WPB orders stopping or cutting production of recreation equipment, figured in manpower, conservation and transportation restrictions, and came up with 31.5% of 1939 consumption, which they figured about equaled present rate of consumption of recreation equipment.

With that percentage as a starter, the agencies involved will work out the percentage of normal consumption of toys and recreation equipment they think we must have even in the event of a long war. That is, they will try to calculate the point at which the morale value of toys and recreation equipment will offset the savings of material and manpower which could be brought about by further cuts in production.

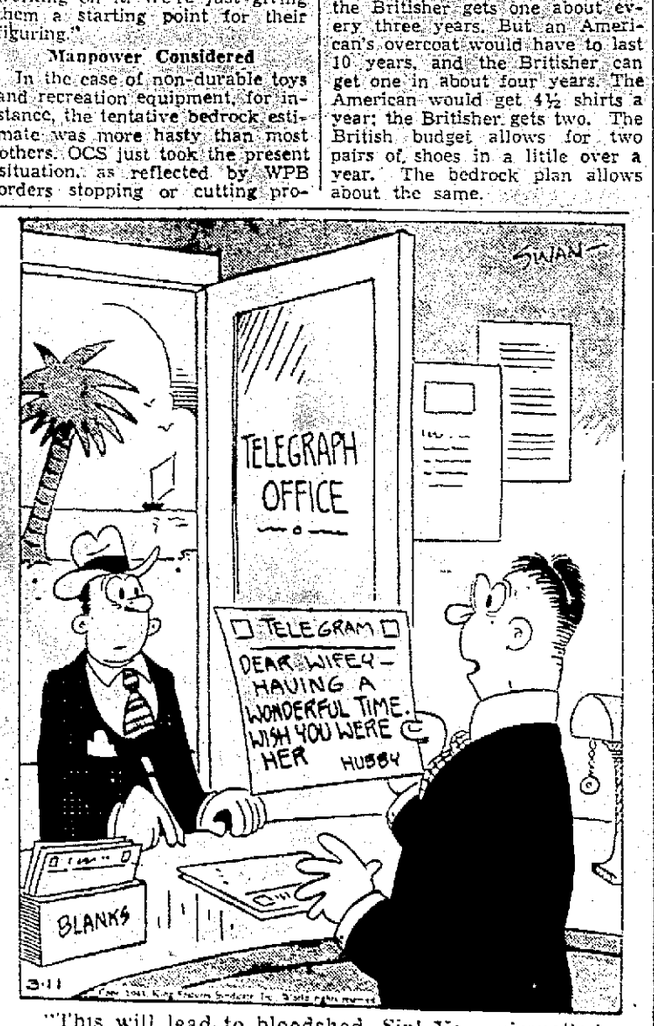
A glance at the tables accompanying the report shows that in some cases a much greater cut can still be made. For instance, non-durable toys (not including other recreation equipment like footballs and golf clubs) are down for 100%. That's because no critical materials are involved. But there is still a lot of manpower tied up in toy manufacture, and who will say that if the war drags on it might not be better to draw half, three-fourths or even all of it into the munitions industry?

Distilled Spirits Fade

On the other hand, distilled spirits' consumption is already set at bedrock of 1%, with the notation that requirements provide for medicinal uses only.

In case you wonder how you would make out under a bedrock set-up, the report makes some comparisons between the present British clothing budget and OCS bedrock estimates for clothing for Americans, which was one of the more carefully worked out classifications. The comparison is very rough and does not consider differences in climate, durability of goods, wearing habits or some other factors.

An American man would get a new suit about every two years; the Britisher gets one about every three years. But an American's overcoat would have to last 10 years, and the Britisher can get one in about four years. The American would get 4½ shirts a year; the Britisher gets two. The British budget allows for two pairs of shoes in a little over a year. The bedrock plan allows about the same.



"This will lead to bloodshed, Sir! You misspelled the word, 'here'!"

Cooperstown Museum Cannot Be Called Complete While It Ignores Baseball's Immortals.

By DAMON RUNYON

CLIFTON L. LORD, director of the Baseball Hall of Fame and National Museum of Baseball, Cooperstown, N. Y., says he was interested in my column in which I referred to the Hall of Fame as "this curious institution" and to baseball's "somewhat dubious tradition." He enclosed a booklet to show something of what they are doing to make it "curiouser and curiouser."

My reference was casual, but now that Mr. Lord has reminded me of it, I repeat that the institution is curious in the sense it is odd and odd in the sense it is droll. I will also repeat my statement about its "somewhat dubious tradition," because it is founded on the tradition that Maj. Gen. Abner Doubleday, Civil war fame invented the present game of baseball in 1839, which is indeed dubious.

I have no objection to giving credit to old general or to Cooperstown, either, for the game, and in fact approve the idea, but there is evidence that baseball was played before 1839, or at least a form of the game close enough to the present game to establish a distinct relation. In any event, the whole thing came from an American Indian pastime of a couple of centuries back.

HOWEVER, I think the Cooperstown Hall of Fame and Baseball Museum are of great value in that they will give a fine historical background to our national game to future generations who will not bother with the slightly dubious quality thereof. But the book Mr. Lord sent me only increases my estimate of it as a "curious institution."

It will remain a "curious institution" with me until it provides memorials to some of the men who really made baseball what it is today, the baseball writers. They are the ones who wrote the game into the minds and hearts of the public in the years that saw the rise of baseball to its greatest popular favor. Without them it would still be a minor sport. They glorified the diamond contests into epic battles and made the players heroic. They put baseball on the front pages.

Mr. Lord's booklet presents pictures of the bronze plaques of the "immortals" of baseball now in the Hall of Fame. There are 14 players drawn from the era since 1900 and 13 so-called builders of the game whose careers extend back of that year. Only one plaque is in memory of a baseball writer, Henry Chadwick, who invented the box score and was author of the first rule book and perhaps the first report of games.

THERE is no plaque to Allen Sangree Charley Van Loan, who first surrounded the game with high drama in their short stories, or to Ring Lardner, whose "You Know Me Al" was (and is) the greatest human and humorous touch ever to baseball. It attracted the attention of millions who had never given baseball more than a passing thought.

There are no plaques to Bozeman Bulger whose "Swat Milligan" made Manhattan far more baseball conscious in his day than it had ever been before, or to Charley Dryden or Bill Phelon who wrote literature in the form of baseball reports.

Nor are there plaques to Thayer, who wrote "Casey at the Bat," or DeWolf Hopper, actor who recited it and was an elocutionary ambassador of the game for two generations, giving it more publicity than the Hall of Fame ever will. Al Munro Elias, the baseball statistician, is not immortalized in bronze, nor Ha Stevens, the concession man whose name was synonymous with the game and who used to lend the magnates money in tough times when they could carry on.

I could name numerous others who would make the Hall of Fame and the Baseball Museum more human and interesting than it is now, and surely less of the "curious institution" it now seems to me to be.

So They Say

It is right to make provision for a minimum income for all our people, but we must remember to see to it that we so organize economic life that we are able to provide the wealth out of which must come the money—British Deputy Prime Minister Clement R. Atlee.

Our policy toward our Japanese enemies is precisely the same as our policy toward our Nazi enemies, it is a policy of fighting hard on all fronts and ending the war as quickly as we can on the uncompromising terms of unconditional surrender.—President Roosevelt.

War is going to be tough enough on civilians without adding any unnecessary burdens. Not a single OPA restriction is going to last a minute longer than is necessary. On the other hand, no essential measure will be relaxed prematurely if the result would be to imperil the winning of the war.—OPA Director Prentiss M. Brown.

We must try to forgive those who injure us.—Madame Chiang Kai-shek.

Next Victim

Next major victim of the failure to look ahead to the consequences of switching from peace to war may be the national highway system, vitally important to war production.

Ernest L. Bailey West Virginia state highway commissioner, has figured out what is happening to state highway systems by developing average statistics—a sort of non-existent average state. Rationing, he finds, has cut approximately 40 per cent off average highway revenues. In addition, there is no federal aid.

Meanwhile, service on debt continues. So does the annual drain of money taken from highway funds for other purposes. Pre-war revenues from all sources amounted to $33,000,000. But the pre-war highway dollar now is worth only about 60 cents in purchasing power because of rising costs. With that taken into consideration, and the shrinkage in revenue, there is only about $3,500,000 left for highway construction, maintenance, etc., that formerly absorbed more than three times that much. If the war goes on another year or so, predicts Commissioner Bailey, and there is no road relief the national and state highway system is going to be reminiscent of the early twenties.

The West Virginia commissioner proposes (1) Regular federal aid funds immediately; (2) recognition that abolition of WPA will cost state highways a tremendous sum or its equivalent in damage; (3) elimination of diversion of highway funds to non-highway uses; (4) recognition by the war manpower commission and selective service of the importance of highway labor; (5) recognition of the problem by state legislatures and (6) development of a post-war highway building program.

Do You Know

A 92-year-old citizen of Minonk, Ill., rolled up his sleeves and got in 17,000 pounds of scrap for the local scrap drive.

The manufacture of pre-fabricated houses for war housing projects depends extensively on the vast forest lands of Quebec Province for supply.

HOPE CEILING THREAT SPEEDS HOG SALES

Packers Look for Increase in Pork Marketing.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 11—Hope was expressed in packing circles today that another threat of ceilings over hogs would cause an expansion in marketings by farmers anxious to obtain current prices, which are above the level at which the government reportedly is contemplating placing maximums.

A report from Washington Tuesday said price officials were considering a ceiling at $14.50 or $15 a hundred pounds, with the order expected to be issued "in the next few days." Hogs are selling at around $15.50 at Chicago. The top early this week was $16, highest since October, 1920.

Livestock traders said, however, this was not the first time ceilings over hogs had been forecast. More than a year ago—on Feb. 25, 1942—when hogs here were selling at about $13, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard announced hog prices were "high enough."

(However, the government subsequently put a floor under hogs at $13.25.)

The market paid little attention to that threat and in August prices had advanced to above $15. Then the office of price administration announced it would establish ceilings and hogs fell back 50 cents a hundred pounds in a few days, only to bounce back by the latter part of September.

All types of packers claim they are unable to operate profitably in their pork meat divisions while hogs are at present prices and meats are under ceilings.

Upper Sandusky School Changes to Slow Time

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, March 11—The Upper Sandusky board of education today had voted to change the public school schedule here to slow time, beginning next Monday morning. Their action followed the announcement by the Wyandot county commissioners that the courthouse clock and courthouse offices would turn back to slow time Friday night. Superintendent J. D. Blackford said a new time schedule is being worked out for the school in cooperation with the Marseilles and Mifflin schools. Transported stuednts and "shared teachers" are involved in the adjustments to be made.

Hardin County Aims Near New Crop Goals

Special to The Star

KENTON, March 10 — Hardin county farmers will meet production goals this year in every crop except those requiring a great amount of hand labor, Harley P. Shick, chairman of the county AAA, asserted today.

Mr. Shick based his claims on a survey of 606 farms, 21.5 per cent of the farms in Hardin county, which revealed that farmers plan to increase their soybean acreage to 104 per cent of last year's acreage (the goal is 105 per cent); corn to 106.2 per cent (goal is 105 per cent); sows to farrow in spring to 134 per cent (goal is 113 per cent); sows to farrow in fall 142 per cent (goal is 118 per cent); milk cows to 109 per cent (goal is 103 per cent); laying hens to 119 per cent (goal is 107 per cent); laying hens to 119 per cent (goal is 107 per cent); chickens raised to 119 per cent (goal is 112 per cent); and sheep and lambs to 102 per cent (goal is 108 per cent).

Forest Man Reported Missing in Action

KENTON, March 11—Robert G. Hemmerly, technician, fourth grade, in the U. S. Army, is missing in action somewhere in North Africa, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hemmerly of near Forest, were advised yesterday. According to a message from the war department, Sgt. Hemmerly has been missing since Feb. 17. No other details were available.

LABOR OPPOSES 52-HOUR WEEK

Objection Raised to Limits in New Female Labor Measure.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 11—Organized labor objected vigorously today to the senate commerce and labor committee's bill fixing a 52-hour work week for women, with provisions for war plants to exceed that limit.

Ted Silvey, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio CIO, asserted any such legislation would tend to drive women out of war production because they could not bear the extra hours.

He sent special delivery letters to 1385 local CIO leaders urging them to work for the bill's defeat.

Phil Hannah, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Federation of Labor, also called upon his membership to register opposition.

The proposed relaxation of present laws regulating the employment of women and minors was recommended for passage by the committee late yesterday after four weeks of deliberation.

The employers generally gave their approval, and committee members said the bill had Gov. Bricker's indorsement.

Chairman Theodore M. Gray said he did not expect the measure to be entirely satisfactory to both labor and the employers, but expressed belief it would be very effective in relieving the manpower shortage.

The bill probably will be brought up for a vote in the senate next Tuesday or Wednesday.

While the 52-hour a week minimum is set for all industries, plants manufacturing war materials could work women and minors additional hours in emergencies. They must report the extended schedule within 10 days to the state inspector of workshops in the industrial relations department.

If the inspector deemed a continuation of the extended hours harmful to the women employes, he could cite the situation to the state health director, who could require the employer to modify the working schedule.

The health director also would be empowered to prevent employment of women and minors in occupations considered harmful.

The present legal work limit is 45 hours a week in manufacturing plants and 48 hours in most other industries. The recommended bill also reduces to 16 years the age limit for employment of boys and girls in numerous jobs. The limit now is 21 for women and 18 for boys.

The committee-approved measure would permit canneries during harvest season to work boys and girls 16 or older unlimited hours. This clause is similar to a bill passed, 98 to 20, by the house yesterday, and which may be incorporated into the senate measure.

TRICK PROVES TOO GOOD
By The United Press
ST. LOUIS — Commandos are fine against the enemy, but George Bader, art store executive, would rather not play around with them. He was the victim of just one commando trick and it took him two weeks to recover. A playful friend, demonstrating the tactics to him, flipped a scarf around his neck and pulled it tight. The scarf's pressure on a nerve center at the back of his neck caused Bader to have a personal blackout and he dropped to the floor. The result was three stitches in Bader's nose, a slight concussion and two weeks in bed. Commando tricks are all right, he said, but from now on he'll just watch them.

HUSBAND OF KENTON WOMAN IS KILLED

Officer Suffers Fatal Gun Wound While Hunting.

Special to The Star
KENTON, March 11—Second Lieutenant R. Owen Buntz, 31, who received his commission last December and since then has been in charge of bachelor quarters at the Army's basic flying school at Garden City, Kas., died at 7:20 a. m. Tuesday in the Army Air Base hospital there of a gunshot wound accidentally sustained Monday while hunting in vicinity of the camp.
Lt. Buntz was the husband of Mary Kathryn Brown Buntz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester E. Brown of Kenton. She and their six-weeks-old son had been visiting here since their dismissal from White Cross hospital, Columbus, and on Sunday the two left for Wauseon, O., to visit Lt. Buntz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Buntz. The baby was born in White Cross hospital on Feb. 2nd.
Lt. Buntz was home for 10 days, starting Jan. 31. His body will be sent to Wauseon for funeral services and burial.
Lt. Buntz was a former instructor in the Chesterville schools.
He enlisted in the Army May, 1942.
A graduate of Ohio State university, he also attended Bowling Green. He taught for two and one half years in Chesterville where he was a science and English instructor. He was a member of the Ohio National guard from 1931 to 1934.
Funeral will be held at Wauseon at 2 p. m., slow time, Sunday at the home of his parents where the body arrived Thursday.

YOU DONT HAVE TO PAY MORE FOR YOUR SHOES

Here's Why: On March 13, 1942, the U. S. Government issued order M-80, making it necessary for ALL shoe manufacturers, regardless of grades, to lay aside for our armed forces all leather soles suitable for military purposes.

THEREFORE, regardless of how high the price of the shoe, you will get only what selections of sole leather are left after supplying the government.

WE USE THE BEST SELECTION WE CAN GET OF SOLES ALLOWED FOR CIVILIAN USE

Many of our shoes are made with specially processed rubber soles. Even though these shoes are sold at low prices, the soles wear longer than leather soles.

You now need LONG SERVICE in shoes. You don't have to pay high prices to get it. Our shoes solve your rationing problem, give you LONG WEAR and SAVE YOU MONEY.

I Hitch-Hike the Alcan Highway

These Soldiers Really Get Lonely

... fourth of a series of ... the Alcan highway.

By SAM JACKSON
Associated Press Features Writer

EDMONTON, ALBERTA, March ... "Hey, here's a guy that ... at a woman 22 days ago."

... Homer C. Graves from ... in West Texas gave ... introduction in a stentor... when I entered the en... ... barracks at Muskwa ... British Columbia. It was ... better barracks on the ... —a metal, semicircu... but. In there two suits ... wool underwear, two ... pants, a sweater and a ... sleeping bag kept you ... comfortable at night.

... to nine months none ... men had seen a woman, ... an occasional squat Indian squaw.

Pin-up Girls Popular

Hitch-hiking down the Alcan highway you realize as you never did before how deeply implanted is the yearning of man for woman. Some girl who flew the air transport route with a comedian under USO auspices was still the talk of the road. Eight thousand men got to see her sing and dance. Even men hopelessly stranded in the wilds were excited on learning that she was only 200 miles away.

A sweater girl clipping becomes something of a shrine to the men who are fighting the battle of the north—something to rest one's eyes on after a bitter day among the great groves of spruce that lead to nowhere. The chorine who has posed for some cheap picture magazine would be proud if she knew how many good-looking young men had dozed off in a Yukon tent with her face and legs as their last waking memory.

"These Indian girls look whiter every day," one lieutenant blithely commented.

These little camps on the bleak road to Alaska are where the junior officer comes into his own.

Work in Darkness

His is the problem of making his men reasonably snug, while still giving the road his primary concern. His own personal morning struggle—to get into uniform, wash, shave and get out to reveille—is enough to try the spirit of any man.

Then begins the fight to get the road running. Finally some truck miraculously starts, and it in turn ... others. At this time of year this is all done in darkness, for the sun comes up for only a brief glimpse over the horizon during midday.

One thing protects the men in spite of lack of a definite working day. It is an axiom of the Arctic that you must not work hard enough to perspire. It's exceedingly dangerous.

After a day's ride from the Muskwa River camp, I wound up at 4 o'clock in the morning at another, and was told a southbound truck probably would come through about 5. I took that to mean about 9, so I curled up in the sawdust of the dispatcher's tent to get some sleep.

SENATOR SAYS ARMY TO HIT 15 MILLIONS

Downey Declares Force Will Exceed Estimates.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11—One senate committee heard testimony yesterday that the nation's armed services will comprise 15,000,000 men instead of 11,000,000 by the end of this year, while another released testimony that all 3-A draft registrants may be inducted by mid-summer.

The 15,000,000 figure came from Senator Downey (D-Calif) during testimony on the Austin-Wadsworth bill to mobilize men and women civilians for industrial and agricultural production.

Downey, asserting that unless some such legislation is enacted American armament goals could not be attained, told the committee: "While there is talk of about 11,000,000 men in our armed forces by next January, the figure will be closer to 15,000,000." He said he had been authorized to make that statement, but he did not say by whom.

Meanwhile an appropriations subcommittee made public testimony by Charles P. Taft, assistant director of the office of defense health and welfare services, that "I am convinced from what the selective service people told me, that they are going to get all the 3-A's by the middle of this summer."

The 3-A classification is one given men with dependents.

Taft made the statement March 4 while testifying in favor of a $2,973,000 fund, later approved by the full committee, to make grants to the states for the care of children of employed mothers. The item was part of a $6,280,000,000 deficiency bill.

Taft, a brother of Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, had returned from an inspection of industrial districts over the nation. He testified there was a pressing need for nursery schools and, for school age children, attention before and after school hours.

He said industries had found married women generally more stable than single girls, and declared the women who are the key people in keeping the war plants going are likely to have children.

"In addition," he asserted "as soon as you start drafting the 3-A's—which, according to what selective service has told me, will be pretty complete by the middle of the summer—you will have an increased number of employed women, who have husbands in the Army. Many of them won't be able to live on the same standard when they get their allowances, and they will go to work."

Green Camp W. S. C. S. Gives $2 to Red Cross

Jessie Buckley Class Votes To Buy Bond

Members of Jessie Buckley class of Central Christian Sunday school voted to purchase a church remodeling bond at their meeting Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. James Nece of Elm street. They also planned to purchase a gift for a class member who is ill. Final plans were made for a rummage sale May 15. Mrs. E. J. Hollandshead conducted devotions which included a vocal solo by Miss Corrine Nece, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Tron.

Mrs. Elmer Weimer was in charge of a social hour and contests were won by Mrs. Joe Mitchell and Mrs. J. G. Cunningham. Refreshments were served with appointments in keeping with St. Patrick's day. Associate hostesses were Mrs. E. Elliott, Mrs. J. C. Baird, Mrs. E. W. Owen, Mrs. J. T. Bargar and Mrs. Elmer Weimer. The next meeting will be the first Tuesday in April with Mrs. Harry Haflick of South Main street.

SWEEPING THE SKIES WITH A BIG PICTURE

"FLYING TIGERS" IS the name GIVEN to the HEROIC fighters of THE American VOLUNTEER GROUP in BURMA—and "FLYING TIGERS" IS the title of REPUBLIC'S STIRRING and SPECTACULAR TRIBUTE to these MEN. Starring JOHN WAYNE, JOHN CARROLL, and ANNA LEE, WITH a splendid SUPPORTING cast, IT is a picture that PACKS all the EXCITEMENT OF a behind-THE-headlines STORY from DEMOCRACY'S MOST hotly-CONTESTED FRONT, together WITH all the romance AND color that come TO men whose lives ARE measured by the HOUR and whose HEARTS keep time TO the rhythm of ROARING PROPELLERS and CHATTERING MACHINE-GUNS. JOHN WAYNE, FRESH from his TRIUMPH in "REAP the Wild WIND," is perfectly SUITED to his role AS a gallant ace, MINGLING two-FISTEDNESS and TENDERNESS in a SUPERB performance. JOHN CARROLL and ANNA LEE win NEW laurels for THEMSELVES in "FLYING TIGERS," TOO. If it's thrills and EXCITEMENT you're LOOKING for, don't MISS "FLYING TIGERS."

Churches Begin Series of Mid-Week Lenten Programs.

The opening of the Lenten season was marked with Ash Wednesday services yesterday in several Marion churches.

Churches conducting services included St. Mary Catholic, St. Paul Episcopal, Emanuel Lutheran, St. Paul Lutheran, Salem Evangelical and Reformed and Forest Lawn Presbyterian and First Church of the Brethren.

Wednesday night services throughout Lent will be part of the pre-Easter programs of these churches. First Evangelical and Reformed church will open a series of Lenten services tonight at 7:30 in the church. Communion services will be held in the Episcopal church each Friday morning at 10 until Easter and the joint services of the Forest Lawn church and First Church of the Brethren on Wednesday night will be alternated between the two churches.

ICC Turns Down Erie Bond Sale Application

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11 — The interstate commerce commission denied today the application of the Erie Railroad Co. for authorization to issue $14,000,000 of 3½ per cent bonds which already had been sold, subject to ICC approval, to Morgan, Stanley and Company of New York.

The sale had been opposed by a group of mid-western bankers who sought to bid for the bonds, by the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co., by Bernard E. Casey, an Erie stockholder, and by the Railway Labor Executive association.

In anticipation of sale of the issue, the Erie had paid off a $14,000,000 loan from the RFC by paying a premium of $597,500.

The bonds were sold to Morgan, Stanley and Company at 96 per cent for resale at 97½ per cent.

THEFT SUSPECTS FREED

Three of the four 12-year-old boys taken into custody by city police Monday night as suspects in a recent series of thefts from autos owned by employes of the Universal Cooler Corp. plant, were released to their parents yesterday afternoon by Juvenile Judge Oscar Gast. A fourth boy picked up by police at the same time was exonerated by his companions and was released to his parents Tuesday. After conferring with the parents Judge Gast placed a number of restrictions on the boys' conduct.

INJURED MARION PILOT RALLYING

Richard E. Parish Reported "A Little Better."

A letter from Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Parish of North Prospect street, who are at the bedside of their son, Richard E. Parish Army transport pilot critically injured in a plane crash Saturday at Burlington, Vt., stated he was a "little better" and on Monday had been able to take his first nourishment since the accident. The letter, written Tuesday, was received by John A. Parish of 369 North Prospect street, brother of the injured flier, today. A telegram received Tuesday gave his condition as "slightly improved."

The letter indicated that his spirits were good and stated they were allowed to visit him for a few minutes several times a day. His back and legs were broken in the crash. Three students and an instructor who were with Parish were injured and were still unconscious at the time the letter was written. Parish, who did not lose consciousness and who is the only one able to tell of the accident, has not improved enough to be interviewed. His injuries include a frozen ear and arm, suffered when he lay in the snow while the other occupants of the plane were being removed from the wreckage. Examination by a nerve specialist showed his reflexes to be good, and he will be examined by a bone specialist Saturday. He is at Mary Fletcher hospital in Burlington.

COMPANY—Four platoons of infantry. Corresponding terms in artillery and cavalry are battery and troop.

CORPS — Generally two or more divisions plus "corps troops" attached to corps headquarters as conditions call for them.

CORVETTE—A war vessel similar to a destroyer but smaller and slower.

COXSWAIN — Technically a boatswain's mate, third class, who steers small boats, launches, gigs, etc.

CRUISER—(Heavy) Warship of about 10,000 tons, rated about 32 knots. Carries about nine 8-inch guns. (Light) Warships of between 6,000 and 10,000 tons, also rated about 32 knots. Mount 16 six-inch guns. The difference between light and heavy cruisers is in the guns they carry.

DEPLOY — Change from a formation of movement to a formation of battle, whether of ships or troops.

DESTROYER — Smallest surface fleet unit. Standard speed 30-37 knots, main battery usually four to eight five-inch guns.

DIVISION—(Square) two infantry brigades, one artillery brigade, one engineer regiment, one quartermaster regiment, one medical regiment plus special troops as needed. (Triangular) three infantry regiments, three battalions light artillery, one battalion medium artillery, one reconnaissance troop, one engineer battalion, one medical battalion, one quartermaster battalion, plus special troops. Both consist of from 20,000 to 30,000 men.

ECHELON — A formation in which ships or troops are staggered diagonally to the rear. (Army) a part of a larger unit.

FLAG OFFICER — Used freely in the Navy to mean any officer of the line above the rank of captain, but technically any officer (not below the rank of commander) appointed by the President to command a squadron.

FLEET TRAIN—All ships essential to the maintenance of the fighting fleet.

FORECASTLE — Upper deck forward of the mainmast of a ship.

G.I.—Government issue applied to equipment and to supplies issued to enlisted men.

GIG—Ship's boat used by commanding officer.

GUNBOAT—Carries about 150 men and is used for patrol work.

MACHINE GUN—(Light) air cooled .30-caliber, shoots 525 bullets per minute at a distance of about 3,500 yards. (Heavy) water cooled .50-caliber, shoots about 600 bullets per minute up to about four miles.

KNOT—About 1 1-6 statute or land miles.

MORTAR—A short, large caliber cannon which shoots high into the air dropping its shell behind an embankment, wall, etc.

O. D.—Officer of the day.

PETTY OFFICER — Specialist in the Navy, such as machinist's mate, yeoman, torpedoman, etc.

PLATOON — Three or four squads (which consist of eight to 12 soldiers).

QUARTERMASTER — (Navy) steersman of a ship. (Army) Quartermaster Corps supplies everything except weapons and ammunition, which are supplied by the Ordnance Department.

QUARTERDECK—Part of the upper deck of a warship, abaft (behind) the main mast. Reserved for officers.

REGIMENT—Three battalions.

SALIENT—Bend or bulge in a battle line.

SCUPPERS — Openings along the deck of a ship to carry off water.

SERVICE COMMAND—A military area established for purposes of Army housekeeping and administration.

SICK BAY—A ship's hospital.

S. P.—Shore police of the Navy.

TALKER—Navy enlisted man who stands next to the officer of the deck and repeats his orders to whatever section of the ship the order is intended for. Most common on aircraft carriers.

TORPEDO BULGE — Also known as "blister." A bulge built into the side of a ship to protect it from torpedoes.

WARRANT OFFICER—A rank just between commissioned and non-commissioned officers. Holds such jobs as boatswain, gunner, electrician, pay clerk and carpenter in the Navy and comparable jobs in the Army.

NAVY gives Army an assist in promotion of Lieut. Gen. Millard F. Harmon to his present rank, Admiral William A. Halsey, right, commander of the South Pacific fleet, is pinning the third star of a lieutenant general on General Harmon's collar somewhere in the South Pacific.

NEWARK MAN MISSING

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 11 — Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bowersox were informed by the war department yesterday that their son, Pvt. Sterling F. (Red) Bowersox, 34, is missing in action in North Africa. He was assigned to a medical corps. Bowersox was a native of Newark, where he was graduated from high school. He was prominent in athletics there.

Recent discoveries have increased the magnification of microscopes from 3,000 to more than 200,000 times.

Maryland Town Plans Community Tomato Patch

By The Associated Press

ELKTON, Md., March 11 — First they planned to divide 25 acres of land into victory garden plots.

Then the citizens of Elkton decided that a community farm would be more efficient.

However, 25 acres of land would not permit diversification of crops, they found, so the townspeople concluded that just one product—tomatoes—would be raised.

From there, it was a simple step to expand their plans a notch further and decide to step up a common kitchen in which the tomatoes could be "put up" by women folk.

If such a kitchen is found—and the backers of the plan are confident it will be—jars of prepared tomatoes will be kept in a common warehouse and distributed as needed to sharers.

Each family will be alloted a share according to how many it had either working on the farm on in the cannery.

Dr. Charles Nitsch, community druggist and leader of the project, gave several reasons for the selection of tomatoes as the "town crop."

1. Workers will be townspeople with little or no agricultural experience, and tomatoes are easy to raise.

2. Canned tomatoes call for a lot of ration points in stores.

3. Tomatoes can be prepared in many different ways for meals.

A practical farmer will be selected to superintend the farm and tractors will be bought or rented for ploughing.

One cardinal rule has been laid down by the committee in charge —"no work, no share."

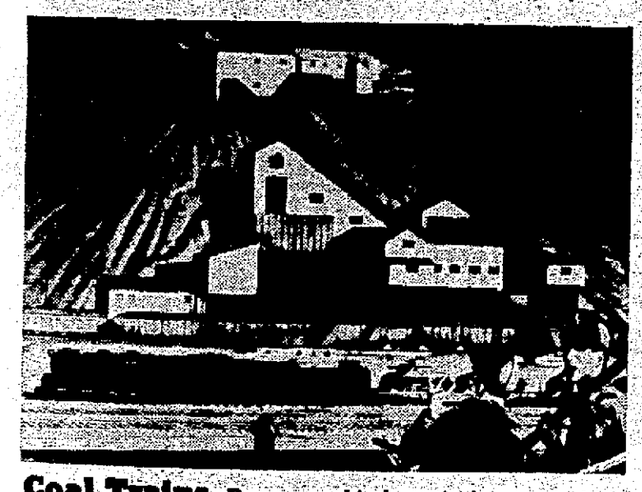
For those who are eligible to buy. Come in and let us explain.

Trains that get the "breaks"

Troop Trains. Because a million troops a month must be moved—and, in addition, the arms and ammunition they need.

Food Trains. Because food for our fighting men—for our allies—and for our "home front" is vital to victory.



Coal Trains. Because coal is the nation's greatest single source of heat, light, power—we can't win the war without it.

Oil Trains. Because they must replace tankers, to serve homes, cars, factories—and to quicken overseas oil shipments.

Once great passenger trains had the right-of-way. And they will again!

But right now there is a war to be won. So trains vital to the war effort get priority.

And we don't think there is a single American who would have it otherwise.

In fact, evidence of that grows daily. If their train is late, business men take it as something that can't be helped. They know why.

And so with any travel inconvenience that may be encountered. Demand for equipment is now so great that on arriving at terminals cars must be put right back into service, so you may find them not quite so spic-and-span as we would like. Housekeeping facilities are adequate but there's not always time.

But Americans are taking all this like good soldiers. For they know this is a war of movement, and that movement begins right here—in America.

PREDICTS BIG TANKS WILL LOSE FAVOR

U.S. General Says 60-Tonners Will Disappear.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11 — It's not the size of the tank in the fight, but the size of the fight in the tank that counts.

So says Maj. Gen. Levin H. Campbell, who offered to bet today that the 60-ton heavy tanks would disappear from the battlefields before the end of the war.

Firepower, not bulk, is the test of any tank, he said.

The blunt-spoken chief of ordnance, asked about reports the Americans in Tunisia had "nothing to match" the German Mark VI 62-ton monster tanks, said the army had four mobile field guns that would—and had—put shells through the German armor.

He added that American ordnance officers more than a year ago designed and built 60-ton tanks, only to give them up when the armored force decided against them—"the fellow who had to fight in them, and maybe die in them, said he didn't want them. They were too heavy; they couldn't maneuver."

"We are very prone," said Campbell, "to get confused in our outlines as to what a tank is for. There is no excuse for any tank except the firepower it can exert."

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly. Once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

DEATH TAKES M. O. BELL OF NEAR MARSEILLES

Dies Suddenly at Daughter's Home in Carey

Special to The Star

MORRAL, March 11—Merle O. Bell, 63, farmer of near Marseilles, died suddenly Monday in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Clarice Wagner, in Carey where he was visiting. A physician attributed death to a heart attack. He was born July 13, 1879 in Hancock county to Rollin and Mary Ward Bell and lived 40 years in his late farm home. Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Emma Naus Bell, and nine children, Mrs. Lena Clark of McCutcheonville, Mrs. Lucille Johnson of Forest, Lewis Bell of Marseilles, Chester Bell of Morral, Darwin Bell of Prospect, Mrs. Thelma Haner of Morral, Robert Bell of Forest, Mrs. Clarice Wagner of Carey and Pvt. Claude R. Bell of the U. S. Marine corps stationed at San Diego, Calif., a brother, Claude Bell of Medina and a sister, Mrs. Fern McIntire of Marion. Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. in the Marseilles Methodist church by the pastor, Rev. Jones, assisted by Rev. W. E. Ballinger of Cygnet. Burial will be made in the Huston cemetery at Forest.

WEDDING BELLS WIN OUT

By The United Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—WAAC Lt. Mary O'Brien, on duty at Fort Ord, needed a new pair of shoes for her wedding. She commissioned her friend, Lt. Sheela O'Leary, as maid of honor, to purchase them for her. But the shoe dealer demanded sugar ration coupon No. 17. As a Waac, Lieutenant O'Leary never had a ration card. But her Ration board secured a special dispensation for her. Then, to her joy, when she went to buy the shoes, she found that Lieutenant O'Brien had already been to town from Fort Ord, and had even purchased a pair of shoes for Lieutenant O'Leary. So all was set for the wedding.

3 Out of 20 Men at 45 Able To Pass Army Exam

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11.—If you're a male American, age 45, there are only 3 chances out of 20 that you can pass an army physical.

At 36 years, the chance is 6 out of 20; at 21, it's 14 in 20, and at 18 and 19 years, 15 out of 20.

The senate found the figures today in publication of testimony on the first deficiency bill of the session, a $6,220,000,000 measure which includes $3,182,000 for the high school victory corps.

Speaking in favor of the appropriation to give American youths pre-induction training, physical and mental, Col. Leonard G. Rountree, director of medical services for the selective service system, disputed the theory "that we have the healthiest and most rugged youth in the world."

Of the first 2,000,000 draft registrants examined, he said, 1,000,000 were rejected for physical defects, disorders, deficiencies and diseases.

"Those accepted were, as a group, soft and flabby," he testified, adding that this applied to the current 18 and 19 year old groups as well.

He said standards of physical fitness had now been lowered materially, because "we are at the bottom of the barrel."

Flabby oldsters and youngsters can take cheer from one point of the colonel's testimony. He said the Germans have set their standards so low that "they will take virtually anybody who can serve in any capacity in the armed services."

Rountree said what selective service wants is "prehabilitation"—getting men ready in advance of their call to service.

OPA To Get Tough With B and C Card Holders

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 11.—The regional office of price administration said yesterday it was going to "get tough" with war workers who hold B and C gasoline ration cards but fail to carry out share-the-ride agreements.

An OPA representative from Washington will confer with regional officials tomorrow concerning a plan for enforcing the ride-sharing program, the local office disclosed through a spokesman who declined to be named.

"There's a distinct possibility that ration boards will be instructed to lift B and C cards of war workers not cooperating with the program when the time comes for renewals," said the spokesman for the regional OPA, which includes Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Founder's Day Dinner Held by Sorority Group

THE seventy-seventh anniversary of the founding of the Iota Alpha chapter of Phi Omicron national sorority was observed by the chapter at a dinner meeting at Hotel Harding Tuesday evening.

The table was centered with a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and tapers and colored candles were seven miniature golden lamps of knowledge holding blue candles. Favors and place cards were in blue and gold, the sorority's colors.

Miss Marguerite Hafker conducted a quiz on the history of the chapter. Honors in games went to Miss Enid Bittle, Miss Gertrude Haberman and Miss Blanche Conover.

In charge of arrangements were Mrs. Rowena Rader, Mrs. Margaret Margin and Miss Hoover.

LORAIN DOCTOR JAILED AFTER ASHLEY INCIDENT

Gets 30-Day Term and Fine on Gun Pointing Charge.

DELAWARE, O., March 11 — Charged with carrying a concealed weapon and with pointing a gun, Dr. V. H. Sergeant, Lorain physician, was fined $50 and costs and given a 30-day jail sentence when he was convicted yesterday at a hearing before Justice J. J. Schweitzer of Delaware.

The concealed weapon charge was filed by Sheriff M. F. Pinney and the other charge was filed by Ora Johnson, Ashley filling station operator.

Dr. Sergeant was arrested Tuesday night at Ashley by Sheriff Pinney, who said the physician had attempted to force his way into the Johnson home in search of an Ashley woman whom he claimed he had married several years ago. The woman, reported employed at the Scioto Ordnance plant near Marion, was said to have been riding back and forth to work with a relative of Johnson but Tuesday night she stayed in Galion.

At the hearing Johnson said he did not know either Dr. Sergeant or his wife and did not know the reason for the former's attempt to enter his home. Officials said Dr. Sergeant drew a gun after being knocked down by Johnson who had refused him entrance to his home.

Marion Area Men On "Missing in Action" List

Three men from the Marion area among men listed by the war department as missing in action in Europe, the Middle East and in the North Atlantic, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington.

G. O. P. WILL RALLY RUML PLAN SUPPORT

House Republicans Call Caucus for Monday.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11 — House Republicans today set a caucus for next Monday to mobilize party strength behind the plan of Beardsley Rumi, New York banker, to skip a tax year and put America's 44,000,000 income taxpayers on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, house Republican leader, said "in my judgment an overwhelming majority of Republicans will support some plan patterned after the proposal by Rep. Carlson of Kansas." Carlson is author of a bill embracing the Ruml plan.

These developments gave rise to some private speculations the house might approve the Ruml plan, as the Republicans now have 209 seats there to 222 for the Democrats, and Ruml plan advocates said they expected some Democratic support.

However, it was not expected the minority party would vote solidly, as Rep. Gearhart (R-Calif) is one of the most vigorous opponents of the Ruml plan. A Republican conference does not bind all party members.

Leaders of the skip-a-year proposal described as "a great disappointment to the taxpayers" the income tax collection plan approved yesterday by the ways and means committee, making "pay-as-you-go" optional with each taxpayer, without any tax abatement, and imposing a 20 per cent withholding levy against the taxable portion of wages and salaries, effective July 1.

Four from This Area Receive Commissions

Four men from this area were today graduated from bombardier schools in the West Texas Bombardier Triangle and commissioned as second lieutenants in the Army Air Forces, according to a report from the schools. The men are: Lt. Clarence E. Miller of Delaware who attended Heidelberg College at Tiffin; Lt. Donald E. Baxter, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Baxter of Mansfield, a graduate of Ashland High school in 1936 and formerly a detective; Lt. Richard J. Sokmiller of Mansfield, a graduate of Mansfield High school, formerly employed by the Richland Printing Co.; Lt. Norbert C. Schleicher of Marysville, a graduate of Capital university at Columbus and formerly a salesman.

STANDLEY'S STORY PRINTED IN RUSSIA

Papers and Radio Carry Ambassador's Statement.

By The Associated Press

[illegible] — The Russian home radio and the story in two broadcasts [illegible] ning and morning, and three [illegible] the newspapers carried it on the back page of their four-page edition—the space usually allotted to foreign dispatches except those of transcendent interest.

There was no editorial comment.

Admiral Standley likewise declined further comment.

"I have made my statement," he told The Associated Press. "I have nothing more to say at present."

The Tass dispatch included the admiral's most significant statement made at the press conference Monday when he called attention to what he said was the lack of complete information of United States contributions of war material to the Soviet Union.

That was the statement: "I have carefully looked for information that Russians get material support from America in the Russian press but could not find a real recognition of this fact."

Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles of the United States declared Standley had spoken without previous consultation with the state department and that he had requested the ambassador to forward the full text of his remarks at the press conference.)

finger printed and has taken the oath of allegiance.

Space will be given for the inspectors to remark on traffic control, effectiveness of the test, and space for the local coordinator to indicate services or equipment needed in the area.

The Marion control center will be operating at full strength and it is expected that the inspectors assigned to communities outside the city will have filed their reports at the center by 10 p. m.

LaRue Set To Dim Out 100 Square Miles

When Marion county dims itself out tonight in a rehearsal of what it would do if under enemy attack by air, the 100-square-mile area making up the LaRue civilian defense area will be testing itself on its boast that it can "black out every house" in LaRue and four townships.

Walter H. Lingo, civilian defense coordinator for the LaRue area, said today that some 100 air raid wardens and dozens of other civilian defense officials will be mobilized in tonight's dimout, and that the stage has been set to notify every home, when the time comes, regardless of whether it has a telephone. Messengers will be sent to those that can not be reached by phone, he said.

Some 300 persons will take part in the LaRue area mobilization. Among them will be 30 special auxiliary police in charge of Dwight Sager, emergency police chairman for the area, who have been placed at the disposal of the county sheriff's office, if needed.

All civilian defense units will report to previously appointed places.

A change in the signal system was announced by Coordinator Lingo. Church bells have been used in the past as one of the first warnings, but because of a state order, their use will be limited to signalling an "all clear" after a dimout or blackout. A long blast from a siren will be the first signal tonight.

Commando Disgusted as Generals' Gateman

By International News Service.

U. S. BASE, North Africa—Easily most disgruntled soldier on this front today is Ranger-corporal Thomas R. Casey, who landed here in the first assault wave and now is doing guard duty near headquarters.

Casey, whose home is at 7 Walnut street, Lynn, Mass., spent several months in Britain training hard with the Commandos. He was among the first Americans to set foot in Africa in the November assault, landing on the beach at Arzew, near Oran. But today his job is "gatekeeper," as he puts it, "to a whole slew of generals."

"Every day I ask them to let me get up to Tunisia with the rest of the boys," he pleads. "And every day they tell me I'm needed here."

STOPS BANDITS ANYWAY

By The United Press

SAN DIEGO, CALIF.—Bandits who fail to keep up with rationing restrictions here are proving a nuisance. One of them covered Sam Hastings service station employe, with a gun and ordered him to open the cash register. He stings smilingly and obligingly complied, showing the empty register. 'You see,' he explained to the bandit "we are not allowed to sell gas any longer, only kerosene and crude oil. You'll never find money in service stations now." The bandit walked away with an air of injured dignity.

Anniversary View of Lease Lend

Congress Will Write Own Post-War Economic Plan

Clearance Given Sen. George's Plan After President Submits Lengthy Commission Report.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11—Congress gave clear-cut signs today that it intends to make thorough-going independent investigations of executive recommendations before determining any formula for the settlement of post war economic problems.

Administration leaders were reported to have given clearance to a proposal by Senator George (D-Ga) to establish a nine-member post war planning committee and George told reporters he would ask for a $50,000 appropriation to assemble a staff and launch an immediate inquiry.

Tentative arrangements were made to refer to the group a report of the national resources planning board sent to congress yesterday by President Roosevelt with the expressed hope the legislators would begin at once a study of the problems of the transition from war to peace and the longer range development of an expanding economy.

Has No Comment

While he declined to comment on the bulky report's recommendations, George said so far as he personally was concerned it would be the aim of the new committee to hold federal participation in postwar rehabilitation to a minimum and to encourage individual initiative. The report recommends extensive federal assistance on such projects.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) said he thought one of the first tasks of the George committee, after it is created, ought to be to investigate operations of the board of economic warfare, headed by Vice President Wallace, to determine if it had made any postwar economic commitments in its dealings with foreign nations.

The senate foreign relations committee yesterday wrote into its favorable report on the lend-lease bill a provision both Vandenberg and Chairman Connally (D-Tex) interpreted as a warning to executive agencies not to make economic commitments without first submitting them to congress.

The committee unanimously stated its conviction that there was no authority in the lend-lease act "to warrant any general post-war commitment or post-war policies" in lend-lease agreements.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said it was his idea this ought to serve as notice executive departments "can't get in the back door by using statutory power to commit this country without coming to congress."

Chief Features

The post-war plan's chief features, includede recommendations that:

Demobilization of the armed forces, civilian war workers and the vast industrial machine built up for war production be graduated "over a period of months."

A similar slow course be taken in relaxing price and wage controls, the rationing of consumer goods, and the controls over allocation of scarce raw materials and industrial and construction equipment.

The government maintain a partnership with private enterprise in such industries as aircraft, shipbuilding, aluminum and magnesium, helping to decide "what areas and what concerns should continue to operate in these industries."

Railroads be consolidated into a limited number of regional systems under authority of a national transportation agency.

Labor be upheld in "the right to collective bargaining, fair wages and hours, healthy and effective working conditions, responsibility in organization and sharing in management."

Measures be taken in behalf of business to "eliminate avoidable uncertainties and needless burdens in the laws affecting (private) enterprise and in their administration."

Consumption taxes be "sharply reduced" and a tax structure set up retaining graduated levies on a "broadened tax base, with major emphasis on the individual income tax and less reliance on the corporate income tax."

A "post-war conversion reserve" provision be written into federal tax laws immediately to help private companies get back on a peacetime basis after the war.

Roosevelt Sends Message on Second Anniversary of Lend-Lease Program

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11—The following message from President Roosevelt was read by Vice President Wallace today at a luncheon observing the second anniversary of lend-lease operations:

Two years ago, on March 11, 1941, the lend-lease act was approved.

Hitler had promised his people that this war would be a short one, a single front war—that our aid would be too little and too late.

Such also were the promises of the military junta of Japan.

Time has given the lie to their promises.

Our promises have stood the test of time.

For today, as we observe the second anniversary of the lend-lease act, the United Nations are on the offensive.

Two years ago the question was—where would the axis strike next. Now, the question is—where will the United Nations strike next. The enemy will receive its answers on battlefields of our own choosing.

As we strike down the axis, lend-lease and reverse lend-lease will contribute more than any other single factor to the inevitable defeat of the axis.

And this materials has become more than a tool weapon of war. In the theater of battle, lend-lease is helping to forge the unity that will be required to make a just and lasting peace.

Red Ambassador Speaks

Mr. Roosevelt's message was one of many expressions of praise and thanks voiced at the luncheon gathering.

Speaking in person and apparently phrasing his address as a direct rebuttal to American Ambassador William H. Standley's recent assertion in Moscow, Maxim Litvinoff, Russian ambassador, declared:

"Supplies received (by Russia) through lend-lease have been an enormous help and, as such, deeply appreciated by the people of the Soviet union who are fully aware of its extent."

Additional thanks for lend-lease were expressed at the luncheon by Lord Halifax, British ambassador, and Dr. T. V. Soong, Chinese minister of foreign affairs.

Litvinoff said he had no statistics on just what part American aid has played in Russia's war along a 2,000-mile front, but as an example he cited an airforce regiment of the Red army which "using nothing but Airacrobras (Bell P-39—cannon firing American fighter plane) has been given the title of a guard regiment for its distinguished services."

These American-equipped airmen fought on the Voronezh and Demyansk fronts, downing 43 enemy planes while losing but three of their own. Another Russian air group using American B-25 bombers (the type used in the Tokyo raid) conducted 380 successful combat flights during January without losing a single plane.

Help for China

While praising lend-lease, Dr. Soong, a brother of Madame Chiang Kai-shek, commented, "I would be less than frank if I say that China is satisfied with the amount of aid she has received from lend-lease."

Giving a few impressions of his recent visit to China, Dr. Soong said he noted a growing stream of supplies, however, coming into China in the planes of the American air transport command which flies from India over the Himalaya mountains into China.

Lend-lease Administrator Edward R. Stettinius Jr., commented that, in the case of China, lend-lease efforts were concentrated at present on expanding the air and other transport means of getting supplies to China.

Speed Important To Both Sides on Far-Flung Fronts

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Hitler marks his legions against Kharkov, key city of the strategic Ukraine, in a desperate effort to repair the Red ravages on the right wing of the 500-land-mile battle line and the necessity for speed controls his tactics.

The great Montgomery employs his famous British Eighth Army for another smash at his favorite enemy, Rommel the Reynard, along the strongly fortified axis Mareth line in southern Tunisia—and he too is competing against time.

Actually the Nazi all highest and the hard-hitten Briton are racing each other. We have in these widely separated operations an excellent example of the interdependence of the various war theaters.

Hitler is straining to achieve his objective before the allies can open up a second front in France and compel him to withdraw strength from Russia. He is said to be using 12 fresh divisions from western Europe in his present ferocious assault.

Out for Quick Kill

And Montgomery, with the other allies under General Eisenhower's command, is going all out for a quick annihilation of the axis forces in northern Africa, because the opening of a front in France must await the conclusion, or near conclusion, of the Tunisian show.

While the fuehrer's immediate goal is clear—the recapture of the great railway center of Kharkov and the basin of the Upper Donets—a far more subtle project would seem to be involved. I believe he is in process of trying to carry out one of the great defensive operations of the war.

At first glance it might seem the Nazi chief was getting set for another huge offensive in an effort to reach the oil fields of the Caucasus and break through into the middle east as soon as the good weather and dry roads of early summer have arrived. And that indeed is a possibility, though he would have to get some mighty lucky breaks to make it feasible in view of the terrific losses he has sustained in men and materiel this winter.

However, I believe the real answer is Hitler is trying to maintain the very large degree of control which he has had over the Black sea because of his occupation of the northern and western coastline, together with the Crimea and Russia's great naval base of Sevastopol. In order to retain his hold on this strategic water he must keep his right wing anchored where it now is—near Rostov, where the Don river empties into the sea of Azov.

Black Sea Strategic

And the reason for this anxiety about the Black sea? Well, one reason is if the Russians regained use of it for their Navy and transports they could bring powerful additional pressure to bear on the German right flank, and might roll it back with disastrous results. There is still another and much more important reason, however, and it is this:

Turkey's position is such Hitler can't be sure from one minute to the next whether she may join the allies against him.

British Premier Churchill's visit to Ankara a few weeks ago while I was in the Middle East set that part of the world flaming with the report the Turks were ready to strike. It still is anybody's guess whether Turkey may be drawn into the conflict, but there's small doubt that her sympathies are wholly with the allies.

So we would seem to be safe in saying Herr Hitler is protecting himself against a possible attack by the Turks when the good weather arrives. If you will glance at your maps for that part of the world the reason for his worry will be clear.

Turkey's northeastern border lies against Russia, a long stretch of her northern coast is washed by the Black sea, and European Turkey is elbowing Hitler's Bulgarian ally suggestively. Yes, it looks as if Hitler is trying to stabilize his right wing mainly for defensive purposes.

RITES FOR INFANT

Special to The Star

PROSPECT, March 11—Burial services were conducted this morning at the Otterbein cemetery for Ralph Marion Barcus, son stillborn in City hospital yesterday morning to Joseph and Ruth Morrow Barcus of Marion, formerly of northwest of Prospect.

ILLNESS IS FATAL TO OSCAR P. GIBBS

Mark Street Resident Passes Away at 83.

Oscar Perry Gibbs, 83, of 331 East Mark street died in his home at 9:10 a. m. today after an illness of five weeks.

A native of Wyandot, he came here from Nevada in 1906 and worked for road contractors here for many years.

Born Aug 25, 1859, he was a son of Erastus and Anna Long Gibbs, the father a native of Vermont. He married Miss Minnie E. Garber, who died in Marion 22 years ago.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Maude Atkinson of 331 East Mark street, a son, Ernest Gibbs of Ashley, seven grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

The body has been taken to the Boyd and Uncapher funeral home on West Columbia street pending funeral arrangements.

Report Laval Orders Universities Closed

By The Associated Press

The Fighting French radio at Brazzaville said today Pierre Laval, chief of government in the Vichy regime, was considering closing down all French universities so students could be sent to Germany to work in Nazi war industries.

STIMSON

Stimson said, probably were taken prisoner, but it is possible some of them might return to the American lines.

During the last week, he said, the highly mobile forces of German Marshal Erwin Rommel have been extremely active in southern Tunisia, but he called the net result of their acuvity decidedly unfavorable to the axis.

A number of German and Italian thrusts against the British First Army in northern Tunisia, he said, apparently were a not altogether successful attempt to cover the operations in the south.

In southwestern Tunisia troops of General Giraud's French forces have reoccupied the villages of Nefta and Tozeur and farther north are closing in on Gafsa, he added, while troops of General Le Clerc's Fighting French force of Lake Chad have made contact with the Giraud forces in a flanking movement around the southern end of the Mareth line.

Allied aircraft, continuing to show a "gratifying superiority" over axis planes in aerial combat, have been an important factor in the allied successes in Tunisia, Stimson said, both in supporting the allied ground forces, and carrying out bombing and strafing attacks on enemy shipping and installations.

Last week, he said, allied fliers shot down 58 enemy planes against a loss of 31.

school for drill under the direction of Alton Cook, Legionnaire. The Waldo school is ready to start drilling, in charge of Frank Furniss of Co. H of the State Guard, and at Prospect the school is organized, and already has started drilling under the leadership of Edward Perry, commander of the Legion post.

Military drill is offered boys in the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior grades in the county schools.

There is a need for instructors, men of the Legion or men who have been trained in Army drill, Mr. Brown said this morning. Men interested in helping with the program have been asked to call him at 5207.

The scholastic part of the Victory Corps program has been in effect in the city and county public and parochial schools for months.

Mainly it has consisted of altering chemistry, physics and mathematics courses along pre-induction and pre-flight lines.

In some schools the physics courses now emphasize radio and electricity.

Changes in courses of study have varied according to the equipment of the schools.

Samuel F. Weist, LaRue Bank Head, Claimed by Death

S. F. WEIST

Samuel Frederick Weist, 66, president of the Campbell National bank at LaRue, died of cancer at 8:15 p. m. yesterday at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jones at LaRue. Ill for the last three years, his condition had been serious for the last four months.

A lifelong resident of the community, he was born May 1, 1876, at the West family homestead three miles northwest of LaRue, to Philip Weist, a native of Baden, Germany, and Mary Wilt Weist whose birthplace was Richland township. His marriage was to Lizzie Cook, whose death occurred Dec. 28, 1937.

A director of the bank for the last 20 years, Mr. Weist was made president of the board of directors 10 years ago. He was a prominent farmer in the community and was actively engaged in farming until his retirement in 1933 when he moved to LaRue and his son, Mac Weist moved into the family homestead. After moving to LaRue Mr. Weist owned and operated the East Side Elevator for three years. When a young man Mr. Weist was engaged as a cook and clerk at the Smith, Hoyles and Seitz railroad hotel in Marion from 1895 to 1897. He had made his home with his daughter since last May.

Mr. Weist was a member of the Lutheran church and the Knights of Pythias lodge.

Surviving with the son and daughter are four grandchildren, Winifred Jones, and Philip, James and John Weist, four sisters, Mrs. N. S. Virden and Mrs. W. F. Holliday of LaRue, Mrs. A. U. Glass of Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. G. K. Dilts of Fort Wayne, Ind., and one brother, W. P. Weist of LaRue.

Friends may call at the Jones home after 8 tonight and until 10 a. m. Saturday when the body will be moved to the Boyd & Ford funeral home at LaRue where services will be held at 4:30 p. m. fast time. Rev. M. E. Hollensen, of Emanuel Lutheran church in Marion, will conduct the service, assisted by Rev. J. W. Horne, retired Methodist minister of LaRue. Burial will be made in the LaRue cemetery.

CONGRESS

ported languishing since last summer.

The day loomed as a busy one for all hands—including the 117 new congressmen who attended the strictly social session at the White House last night to meet and greet the President and came away agreeing that it was a very pleasant evening, but "nobody was converted," politically speaking.

Sharing attention was the senate vote on deferring essential farm workers from military service—the first legislative stroke on the complicated manpower picture. Behind this scene, a senate committee called for information on a "straw boss" shortage in industry and congressmen heard official indications all 3-A draft registrants might be drafted by midsummer.

Smith Votes "No"

Carrying the house's 407-to-6 approving vote of yesterday, a measure continuing lend-lease for another year reached the senate. Three Ohio congressmen were among the six Republicans opposing the bill. They were Walter E. Brehm, Robert F. Jones and Frederick C. Smith.

Not so smooth was the road ahead of a bill to boost the national debt limit-carrying a rider which would nullify the President's salary-limitation order. Up for house consideration today, it brought to a head a bitter controversy which has been brewing between the White House and congress over whether the Chief Executive exceeded his authority in issuing the order.

Regional consultation of civilian industries came up for war production board consideration after reports a nationwide plan of that type—vigorously launched by WPB last summer—had hit a virtual standstill. WPB officials seemed convinced labor shortages could be met only by curtailing some less essential industries on a regional basis in order to free workers of that area for war work.

COSTLY BUS RIDE

By International News Service

COLON, R. P.—Victor Small, a 19-year-old West Indian, "borrowed" a small passenger bus from his friend, Frank Kernahan, and took it for a few turns along a city route, but the $3.10 he had collected in nickels by the time Kernahan and the police overtook him was not all profit. The judge fined him $175.

On the China front, generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's armies fighting to defend China's "back door" along the Yunnan-Burma frontier were reported to have blunted the northern claw of a pincer which the Japanese had thrown across the Yunnan border from their base at Myitkyina, Burma.

A Chinese Army spokesman said the Japanese were using 55,000 troops in the border region, but declared the Chinese had captured point after point.

RUSSIA

Bernard L. Montgomery's promise to give the axis a "very bloody nose" was marked by exploratory thrusts against the 60-mile-long Mareth line in southern Tunisia as the British 8th army prepared for a climatic assault.

Weather Unfavorable

Rain and sandstorms prevented large-scale operations, but Montgomery's big guns—the weapons that broke up axis attacks with the loss of 52 tanks—were reported raining havoc on the Mareth defense works.

Some 130 miles to the northwest, fighting French troops stormed and captured the mining center of Metaoui, 25 miles southwest of Gafsa, an Algiers broadcast said.

Dispatches indicated the French in this sector were cleaning out the Nazis in the region just above the bleak Chott Djerid salt lake, paving the way for a drive to the gulf of Gabes behind the Mareth line.

In the north, Lieut.-Gen. K. A. N. Anderson's British 1st army was reported continuing its patrol activity in the Sedjanane sector, 35 miles west of axis-held Bizerte naval base, where the German have been attempting to widen their narrow defense corridor.

A communique from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters said allied troops repulsed an axis attack yesterday west of Sedjenane, while the German command reported "fighting of local importance only."

AFRICA

terranean timetable to attack Europe is likely to be thrown off schedule.

While these observers agree axis strength is certain to dwindle from this period onward the death struggles are certain to be bloody and violent right down to the Tunisian beaches.

Fight for Time

Beaten back now on every side, the German generals, can only fight for time to keep the allies too occupied to strike Europe itself, and it is considered certain that Hitler has given orders to hold Africa right up to the last company. This is borne out in the appearance of the German army's latest tanks, planes and equipment on this front.

It is self evident, however, that the Germans are growing weaker. This is particularly true in the air where the allies bomb and ports by daylight in large formations.

It is an inescapable fact to any one who has been in the battle lines against the Germans in the past two years that the Nazi air force, while still potent over the battlefield locally, is a shadow of the striking force once was.

New Bus Service Ban To Be Effective March 15

Baked Fish in Menu

By BETSY NEWMAN

One day of the week we can have fish for dinner, whether it be a Friday or not. If the family likes fish especially well, serve it more than once a week.

MENU

Baked fish, baked Idaho potatoes, cabbage, celery, tomato salad, beets, maple cake, coffee.

Baked Bluefish

4-lb. fish, cooking oil, salt, stuffing.

Have fish cleaned, trimmed but not split. Make a solution in the proposition of 2 tablespoons salt to 1 cup water, and soak fish in it for 5 minutes, then drain. Slit skin of fish in several places and brush with cooking oil, then stuff, tie with string and bake 10 minutes at 500 degrees F., then lower temperature to 400 degrees F., and bake 8 to 10 minutes longer.

Stuffing

4 c. bread cubes, 3 tbsps. finely chopped onion, 2 tsps. sage leaves, finely crushed, ¾ tsp. salt, ⅛ tsp. black pepper, ¾ c. cooked celery, finely chopped, 4 tbsps. hot celery liquid, 6 tbsps. hot melted margarine.

Mix salt and pepper into liquids and stir in the celery. Pour mixture slowly over bread with which sage and onion have been mixed, so as to moisten it thoroughly. Cover for a few minutes, then stuff fish.

Maple Cake

2½ c. cake flour, 3 tsps. baking powder, ½ tsp. soda, ½ tsp. salt, ½ c. butter or margarine, ½ c. brown sugar, 2 eggs, ¾ c. maple syrup, ½ c. milk, ½ tsp. vanilla.

Grease two 8-inch layer cake tins. Set oven at 375 degrees F. Sift flour, measure and sift with baking powder, soda and salt. Cream fat, add sugar gradually, creaming well. Beat eggs well, add to creamed mixture and blend well; then add dry ingredients alternately with liquids until all have been used, beating after each addition until batter is smooth. Add flavoring and turn into well greased pans. Bake until cake shrinks from sides of pan and is nicely browned on top, about 30 minutes. Let stand in pans for 5 minutes then remove to cake rack to cool, and frost with maple frosting.

Maple Frosting

1 cup maple syrup, 1 egg white, beaten stiff.

Boil syrup until it forms a thread, pour slowly over stiffly beaten egg white with dash of salt. Ice between layers and on top of cake.

Lamb Shank in Economy Menu

By BETSY NEWMAN

We may have just a little bit of meat and use it to make a good deal of flavor. When we think of people actually starving overseas we may indeed be thankful for what we can get, and be more than willing to share our meat with our boys in service and our Allies.

MENU

Lamb Shanks with Vegetables, Cottage Cheese and Green Pepper Salad, Floating Island, Tea.

Lamb Shanks with Vegetables

One lamb shank for each person, salt, pepper, flour, fat to brown, potatoes, carrots, onions.

Rub shanks with salt and pepper, dredge with flour and brown in hot fat. Add water to cover bottom of pan and roast in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., or over low heat on top of stove until almost tender, about 1½ hours, then surround with vegetables and continue cooking until all are tender, about 45 minutes. Remove meat to a platter, make gravy and serve separately.

Floating Island

Four eggs, ¼ c. sugar, ½ tsp. salt, 1½ c. undiluted evaporated milk, 1½ c. boiling water, mixed or 3 c. scalded bottled milk, ½ tsp. vanilla.

Save out 2 egg whites and use 2 whole eggs and 2 egg yolks to make soft custard. Beat eggs slightly, add sugar and salt; add hot milk and cook over boiling water, stirring constantly. It will be done when it coats a silver spoon. Cool and add vanilla. Beat remaining egg whites stiff, fold in 2 tablespoons sugar. Cook whites by dropping spoonfuls on hot milk before making the custard, or by placing spoonfuls on pan of ice water and baking in slow oven or broiler until delicately brown. Pour custard into serving dishes and top with browned egg white. You can garnish with fruit wedges if you like. Serves 6.

Soup—Big Help These Days

By ALICE DENHOFF

What with the maid in a defense job and the shortage of canned goods, it is going to take more time and considerably more thought and effort to prepare our meals—and this at a time when nutrition counts as never before. A glance at the old cook books will reveal housekeeping gaining of soup bones to set aside for stock and sauce, whereas we are all too used to opening a can of consomme.

Although the bouillon cube is still with us for the time being, at any rate, we will certainly have to learn the art of soup making or be limited in many dishes.

Time-Saving Recipes

Time spent in making a good hearty soup means a saving in food bills and actual meal preparations. Soup, plus a salad and a good dessert add up to a fine meal. And when you prepare stock, make enough to store for future use, thus saving time and fuel. Have the butcher crack the bones so as to give full benefit of the marrow.

For a wonderful soup, tasty and nourishing, boil 8 large beets until tender, [illegible]. Save and place with one large onion in 2 cups of water and simmer for 2 hours with 1 [illegible] teaspoon celery seed, salt and pepper. Then [illegible] the beets and onion until smooth. Before serving, add a quart of buttermilk. Reheat and serve garnished with floating [illegible] cream sprinkled with chopped parsley.

Louisiana Soup

Louisiana Soup served with croutons is another nourishing dish. Soak one pound of dried lima beans an hour or more. Put part of a ham bone, the beans, 3 onions, 12 peppercorns, and ½ bay leaf with 6 to 8 cups of water. Reserve 1½ cups whole beans. Force remainder of beans and stock through a sieve. Return whole beans to stock, add one cup minced carrot, ½ cup minced green pepper and one small can tomatoes. Cook until tender. If there are bits of ham adhering to the bone, mince and add to soup.

For a real old-time, grand tasting vegetable soup have one large beef or veal knuckle bone cracked at market. Cover with 3 quarts water and simmer slowly for 4 hours. Remove bone, add [illegible] to the soup, add one cup [illegible] sliced onion, 1 cup [illegible] celery and [illegible], 2 cups canned tomatoes, [illegible] each diced carrots and [illegible] and 2 cups diced potato. [illegible] Simmer for about an hour, add salt and pepper. Serves 6 to 8.

KNOWS HER SON

By The United Press

BROOKS FIELD, TEX. — Pvt. Dick Nicola of Chicago, Ill., in common with hot rounders like [illegible] to receive letters, and plenty of them, but when it comes to writing them, he confesses lamely that he "just doesn't have time." When he opened a recent mushy letter from home, out fell more letters, each in envelope already addressed to various of his friends. Perturbed over her son's laxity in writing some long overdue "thank you" notes, his mother had written and typed them herself, leaving only the space for signature. "They also serve who sit and write," mused the soldier.

MARION AREA TEAMS PLAY IN CLASS B FEATURES SATURDAY

LaRue Cagers To Clash with Plain City in Semi-Final Feature.

LaRue, Marion county's Class B tournament winner and twice a winner in the Central district playoff, lines up against mighty Plain City at 1 p.m. Saturday at Westerville in the feature game of the semi-finals of the Class B tourney.

Plain City, winner of 26 straight games this year including its two wins in the district affair, has been branded along with Utica of the Knox county league as the tournament favorites. In the tournament so far Plain City has disposed of Byhalia, 56-17, and Grove City, 41-39.

Probable starters Coach Harold Bennett of Plain City will choose to send against the Marion county team will include Bob Converse, Bob Fee, Bob Daines, Jack Mitchell and Dick Fee.

C. D. Pilkington, coach of the Marion county tourney winner, announced early this week he would rely on the same team which earned for LaRue its county championship. This team includes Albert Jones and Millisor at forwards, John Ridgeway at center, Clair Oberdier and Spitzer at guards.

Coach Pilkington planned to practice the local representatives four times this week, twice during school hours and twice after school ends.

He is concentrating on developing an offensive to break up the success of the rushing man to man defense Plain City has used effectively in its early tournament games.

The two teams will take the floor Saturday on about a par as far as height is concerned. In fact, Coach Pilkington, said LaRue might command a slight advantage in this department.

If LaRue upsets the Plain City crew the Marion county crown wearers will tackle the winner of the Berlin-Edison game in a finals game at 8 p. m. Saturday.

The two winners in the tourney will represent the district in sectional playoffs set for Athens and Springfield.

In other semi-final games Saturday Berlin will tackle Edison at 2 p. m. Marysville will play Pickaway township at 3 and Alexandria will oppose Utica at 4.

The charge for a full day's care at British government nurseries is 25 cents per child; for the poor the service is free.

City Pin Tourney Prize Winners Are Announced Today

M. D. Metz, chairman of the City bowling tournament which ended a week at the Marion and Palace recreation centers, announced today a list of the tourney prize winners.

They are listed below along with the winning tournament score and with the amount of prize money. Prizes were awarded for first place teams or individuals in the championship division and as many as 37 received cash awards in the handicap tourney.

The Midtown Chevrolet, with an actual pin total of 2,704, received first prize of $15 in the team event. The doubles team of C. Jones and O. Klafter won the doubles prize of $10 on a score of 1,147 and M. D. Metz received $8 for a 629 singles scores.

C. Hoffman won the Class A all-events title with a 1,737 nine-game total and C. Stouffer won the Class B with a 1,692 total.

The prize winners are:

ELECTED O. S. U. CAPTAIN

COLUMBUS, O., March 11 — Captain of next year's Ohio State university basketball team is Lou Trabitz, junior forward from Cleveland. He was elected by teammates last night.

Here's 1943 All-N. C. O. Cage Team

Mulvaine, Cleary and Hurst Named to Mythical Hoop Squad.

Unlike the North Central Ohio league championship race which was a battle right down to the finish, the selection by league sports writers of the all-N. C. O. team was more or less of a cut and dried matter.

The mythical team, announced in papers throughout the circuit today, includes Harding's high-scoring Dick Mulvaine and Guard Dick Cleary. Forward Ted Jacobs and Guard Jack Harris, both of Ashland; and the Galion team's captain, Charlie Heskett.

Mulvaine, Jacobs, and Heskett were unanimous choices. They earned the high rating early in the season and it was more or less of a three-way battle to see which would finish first in the league's tepid scoring race. As it turned out Mulvaine finished the 10-game league stretch with 190 points, 27 over the record mark of 163 totaled by Ashland's Vince Barr in 1940.

Named No. 1 Player

Disregarding his high scoring ability and considering only defensive and general team play, Mulvaine was tagged by the league scribes as the league's outstanding player of the year.

But while Mulvaine was voted the league's No. 1 performer, by the same token Ashland was voted as the league's best all-around team, despite the fact the Hilltoppers lost the championship to Harding. The voting reflected that Harding carried off the title honors strictly as a result of the fine work of both Mulvaine and Cleary, whereas Ashland's position high up in the league rankings was due to general team play.

With three of the five first team spots all but sewed up, a real battle resulted for the two vacancies. Dick Cleary, whose chief value to Harding was as a steadying influence, copped one of the places, getting the vote of four of the six scribes. Jack Harris of Ashland won the other guard position. Only three of the selectors favored Harris but no more than two could agree on any of the others nominated for the first team.

The first team embodies all of the qualities of a really great team. The average heighth is a fraction of an inch under six foot, but Mulvaine, at six foot three, and Heskett, a six foot one center, give plenty of height to assure real strength in this department. As far as scoring is concerned the selectees probably have no peer in previous mythical teams. Mulvaine, Heskett and Jacobs are enough to assure this seemingly broad statement.

With the exception of Jacobs and Harris, who are juniors, the first all-league team is composed entirely of seniors. The return of both Jacobs and Harris will make Ashland again one of the strongest teams in the league.

Tom Hurst Honored

Bucyrus, Mt. Vernon, Ashland and Shelby are represented on the scribe's second all-league team with the latter school monopolizing the selections with two berths.

Herb Poland, a junior, and Ralph Higgins, one the league's top 10 scorers, are the two Shelby choices. Bucyrus' lone representative on the first two teams is Charles "Chuck" Shuck, a six

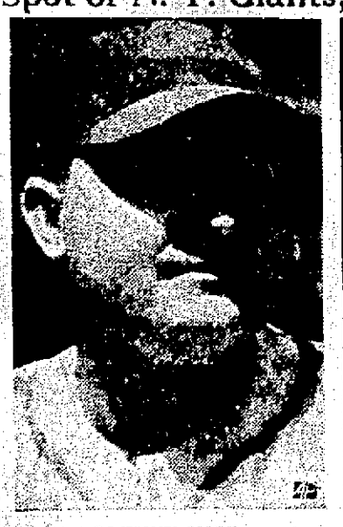
Blackout Threatens at First Base Spot of N. Y. Giants; Mize Faces Draft



JOHNNY MIZE

HANK LIEBER

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 11—The first base woes of the New York Giants are getting all tangled up again like the second act of a musical comedy.

As a matter of fact the Giants have been having trouble at first base almost annually since sweet William Terry punched out on the time clock in 1936, but right now the club is confronted with an absolute void at the position.

Johnny Mize, the big St. Louis clouster whom the Giants obtained last winter from the Cardinals, recently was classified 1-A and yesterday Hank Leiber, whom Manager Mel Ott was counting upon as a fill-in at first, notified the Giants he had retired to chicken farming.

The irony of the situation is that the Giants got both Mize and Leiber a year ago principally to protect themselves against the drafting of Babe Young, their regular first baseman in 1941.

Young remained with the club all through the 1942 season, finally finishing in centerfield, but has since been called to service. Mize and Leiber both are married, but have no children.

The Giants so far have made no important move to get a first baseman, saying they will wait until Mize passes his final physical examination. They think there is a possibility he might be rejected because he bleeds excessively when cut.

On their present roster they have only one likely substitute, husky Babe Barna, who played first base for West Virginia university before starting his pro career.

CLARK TO QUIT RAMS

By The Associated Press

PUEBLO, Colo., March 11—Announcing that he would not seek renewal of his contract as Cleveland Rams coach, Earl (Dutch) Clark said he would recommend that "Chili" Walsh, assistant coach, be considered for the vacancy on the National league football club.

QUITS PRO FOOTBALL

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 11—Gaylon Smith, Cleveland Rams' fullback now employed at Thompson Aircraft Products Co., here, is retiring from the gridiron sport. He said he wouldn't play this fall "whether there is pro football or not."

FOSTER ANNOUNCES DATES FOR SPRING HARNESS RACE MEET

State Racing Commission To Act on Dates of June 10-26.

Frank M. Foster, secretary of the Marion Trotting association announced today the scheduled spring harness racing meeting, originally planned for four weeks, has been tentatively set for a three-week period beginning June 10 and continuing through June 26.

The selected dates must be approved by the state racing commission before they are official, Mr. Foster said.

The meeting, if approved by the commission, will be the first in Ohio this year. It will precede the rich month-long meeting scheduled for the North Randall track near Cleveland.

Hospital To Benefit

The track at North Randall and several other tracks in Ohio cities will be bothered by transportation facilities, whereas the Marion track, located within the city limits at either easy walking distance or within reach of permanent bus lines, will not be affected by the office of defense transportation.

Battle Royal Mat Show Set for Armory Arena Tonigh

John Vansky, Steve Nenoff, Rufus Jones, Rene L Bell, Fred Carone, Buddy Knox Signed for Fight

A battle royal program at the Armory arena tonight in which six proven performers are slated for action promises to be one of the really outstanding mat shows of the season, Matchmaker Les Fishbaugh announced yesterday.

The program will get under way at 8:30 p. m. with all six fighters going after each other at once. The first two to lose out are through for the evening. The next two fighters come back for the semi-final event, a 45-minute affair requiring two out of three falls for a victory. The last two to leave return after the semi-final for the two-hour main-go event.

This type of show, presented frequently here throughout the year, has been a heavy favorite with local mat followers. Highest attendance marks set at the Armory have been at a battle royal program, Fishbaugh said.

Here are the scheduled participants:

John Vansky, the youthful Carney, N. J., fighter who has scored nearly a dozen impressive wins in the last three months at the Armory. Possibly his best performance here was in a match with Farmer Jones. The Cu farmer, naturally, won the f but he had to go the limit suppress Vansky.

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 11—Note of pessimism: Gus Dorais, new coach of the Detroit Lions, has sent out a circular letter to college grid coaches saying: "If your school is quitting football, please advise any of your assistant coaches who are in good condition and want to play pro football to contact the Detroit office."... Dutch Warmerdam, who won't have much use for a vaulting pole in the Navy, is presenting the old one with which he cleared 15 feet or more 25 times to his old high school coach, Henry T. Anderson.. And did you know that Warmerdam has been coaching football at Piedmont, Calif., High for the past two years?

A Gym Dandy Yarn—This isn't exactly a sport story, but Athletic Director R. F. Hastie of Alpena, Mich., claims it happened in his office by the school gymnasium. When ration books were being given out in the gym, his office was occupied by the state tuberculosis X-ray machine...Two women entered the wrong door and asked, "is this where we go?"... Each was given a sheet, directed to a side room to change their clothes, and as they came out robed to take their places before the X-ray machine, one remarked: "Isn't it awful what we have to do to get ration books?"

One-Minute Sports Page—North Carolina colleges are scheduling basketball double-headers for next year and George Washington already has been booked into several of them...Jimmy Bivins, the Cleveland heavyweight, is a pretty good pianist, machinist and cartoonist in his spare time and claims he'd like to play a piano solo for the fight mob after playing a glove solo on Tami Mauriello.

Today's Guest Star—Art Cohn, Oakland (Calif.) Tribune: "Lou Nova may be the dumb oaf some of us insist he is, but he was smart enough to buy a six-acre ranch at Encino for cash the other day, which is more than us wise guys are doing... He's calling it El Cosmic Rancho."

Service Dept.—Barney Ross, boxing's greatest hero, wasn't the only Marine who made use of his ring experience on Guadalcanal...Sonny Boy Walker, the San Diego, Calif., heavyweight, received field promotion from private to second lieutenant for bravery in action.

Spring Training Note—If the Cubs and White Sox expect to get any good out of their Indiana exercises, they'll have to learn to hit more than a French Lick.

HERSHEY BEARS HIT NEW SCORING MARK

Beat Pittsburgh To Hang Up Two New Records.

By The Associated Press

The Hershey Bears reacted like champions to the announcement of playoff dates for the American hockey league.

Within a few hours after President Maurice Podoloff set up the schedule of playoff dates yesterday the Bears, who have already clinched the pennant, overwhelmed the Pittsburgh Hornets, 4-1, to establish a new league record for points scored in a season. They also tied the mark for the most victories in a campaign.

The Bears now have 76 points which is one more than the champion Indianapolis Capitals scored last year. In the only other contest of the evening, the Washington Lions nosed out the Providence Reds, 2-1.

Hershey begins its best four out of seven series with the second-place Buffalo Bisons at home on March 17.

The sixth-place Cleveland Barons will begin a best two out of three series with the fifth-place finisher in Cleveland. The third, fourth and fifth place slots have not as yet been decided.

footer who was voted a forward berth.

Bill Wright, Mt. Vernon's lone nominee for either the first or second team, drew a guard berth on the second team and Dusty Darr of Ashland, at the other guard post, rounds out the second team.

Seven players, representing all league teams except Shelby, are included on the honorable mention list. Guard Tom Hurst was the only Marion player in this group. Others are Paul Yeater and James Cross, both of Ashland; Bill Stoner and Dick Plummer, both of Galion; Jack Collins of Bucyrus and Jack Hess of Mt. Vernon.

Participating in the voting were Bill McKee of the Ashland Times-Gazette, Spiv Harris of the Mt. Vernon News, Walter S. Goshorn of the Galion Inquirer, R. R. Peters of the Bucyrus Telegraph-Forum, John Gray of the Shelby Globe and Loren W. Tibbals of The Marion Star. The scribes met at Hotel Talbot in Galion last Monday night.

is the second ranking entrant in the gang fight. Knox has fought here several times and in most cases is usually paired in a main event. He has a record for never having appeared in anything but main events in Toledo, a leading rassling town in the midwest.

Fred Carone, the portly Bostonian, is next. For many years Carone ruled as New England heavyweight champion and for a few years as New York state champ in the same weight bracket. He is especially noted for his use of bear hugs.

Rufus Jones, the sepia-skinned New York City ace, is an institution in local mat promotion. The dark skinned Gotham star last week became the first of the regulars here to defeat Ali Pasha, the Hindu star.

Also on the list for tonight is Steve Nenoff, veteran of dozens of local contests. Highly successful before the local fans, Nenoff has come to be one of the most popular of all wrestlers appearing regularly under the Fishbaugh-sponsored banners.

To round out the sextet Promoter Fishbaugh chose Rene La-Bell, the French-Canadian from Toronto who made his debut in victory here a few weeks ago.

asking suburban tracks to discontinue operations.

Again, as in the past several years, the Woman's Board of the Marion City hospital will conduct the advanced ticket sale. Proceeds from the sale are used to carry on the work of the board at the hospital.

Discussing the planned meeting Mr. Foster said he expected the biggest entry a Marion speed event has ever had. He said the horses which will be here will surpass even the high grade of racing steeds that was on hand for the meeting two years ago. This meet, a two-week affair, drew virtually all of the Grand Circuit drivers plus a large number of lesser-important stables.

Expects Big Entry

Mr. Foster expects a big share of the trainers planning to race on the Grand Circuit this season to open the spring racing here. He said he had received inquiries from throughout the country as well as Canada.

Nearly 200 horses were stabled here for the two-week meet last spring, including horses from a large number of the better known stables.

Horsemen are agreed that harness racing will be centered in Ohio this year as a result of the ODT ban on pleasure driving in the east. Many of the big eastern tracks already are casualties of this order.

Resulting directly from the order, harness racing's main prize events have been shifted to midwestern tracks. There is now considerable talk that the Hambletonian for three-year-old pacers will be shifted to an Ohio track.

MACK SIGNS CONTRACT

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 11—Four members of the Cleveland Indians' prospective 1943 squad were unsigned today after Second Baseman Ray Mack endorsed his contract and notified Manager Lou Boudreau he would be on hand for the opening of spring training Monday at Lafayette, Ind.. Mack rejected the Tribe's first offer. Unsigned members are Jeff Heath, Otto Denning, Chubby Dean and Eddie Turchin.

ORTIZ DECISIVELY DEFENDS HIS TITLE

Victory Over Salica Leaves No Bantamweight Doubts.

By The Associated Press

OAKLAND, Calif., March 11—There's no disputing Manuel Ortiz' clear title to the world bantamweight championship — not after the pasting he gave challenger Lou Salica last night.

The shifty, hard-socking little Mexican from El Centro, Calif., cleared up the 118-pound title question by stopping the ex-champ from Brooklyn in the 11th round of a 15-rounder that was Ortiz' fight from the start.

Ortiz won the title from Salica in Hollywood last August, and only the New York state athletic commission refused to recognize him as champion because the fight went only 12 rounds instead of 15. Ortiz had been accepted by the National Boxing Association and the 47 states it controls.

Salica, a master boxer, had to call on his 12 years of ring experience to save himself from a worse beating. Ortiz had the edge in every round, battering his aging rival with a fearful assortment of blows to the midsection and face. Salica was groggy from a body belting as the tenth ended—and then it came. It was the first time Salica had been knocked out in his professional career.

A howling crowd of 7,000 paid $10,323 to see the fight.

Ortiz weighed in at 117½, and Salica, 118.

SOLDIERS GET CODE ON FIRE SAFETY

Boston Disaster Leads to Warning for Service Men.

By International News Service

BOSTON—The Cocoanut Grove night club disaster of last November, which caused the death of 17 soldiers and injury to 13 others, has prompted the First Service Command to draw up a safety code for soldiers facing fire situations. The rules are:

1. Keep your head.
2. Always be prepared for fire.
3. Don't stay in a burning building.
4. Don't enter a burning building to save property.
5. Never shout "Fire!"
6. If forced to remain in a smoke-filled building, remember that the air is usually better near the floor.
7. Remember that a temporary refuge may be secured behind any closed door.
8. Don't jump from upper story windows except as a last resort.
9. If burned in a fire, report at once for medical treatment.
10. Always wear your identification disc around your neck.

In explaining the rules, Col. Harold G. Storke, director of Internal Security for the First Service Command, said panic was the most dangerous factor in a fire.

Care in studying exits of a building on entering would contribute to later swift, sensible decision in protecting anyone caught in a blazing building, he observed.

The Cocoanut Grove fire cost 490 lives and injuries to 175 other persons.

PLENTY TO DISCUSS

Tiny Crystals Help U. S. Fighters Keep Secrets from the Enemy

NEW YORK—Little crystals are keeping the enemy guessing and making battlefront conversation a private affair.

In the hurly-burly of fast-shifting battle lines, these crystals allow American and allied troops to have radio communication the enemy can't pick up.

These slices of quartz crystal, averaging about an inch square and ten one-thousandths of an inch thick, are of major importance in modern military equipment.

They may have an interesting place in radio after the war, too.

The crystals themselves are not a new idea. They were being made before the war for radio stations and some short-wave receiving sets. But they have gone to war in a big way.

Find Wide Use

In the present war of movement it is important for units—tanks, planes, artillery, infantry—to keep in touch with their commanders.

To avoid disaster, the radio messages of a unit must be received by that unit and not by another unit or by the enemy. The little postage stamp wafers do the job.

Properly cut and treated, each tiny slice will vibrate only to its assigned frequency.

Every tank, plane, gun crew and infantry group is equipped with a radio automatically tuned in by these crystals to every other unit with which the plan of action requires it to keep in touch.

No set can receive or send a message on a different wave length without changing the crystal. Sometimes it is necessary to shift to a different frequency because the enemy has discovered the one already being used.

For this reason some military radio sets are equipped with more than a hundred different crystals.

The way the crystal is cut determines the way it will act under radio waves. One way to cut crystals was by abrasive wheels.

Optimistic about the use of these crystals after the war, diamond men believe there may be widespread use of private radio sets using wave lengths, made possible by the quartz wafers, which should make privacy possible—such as conversation between a motoring business man and his office.

Go Along with Jeeps

Meanwhile Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., making jeeps, has found a way to enable motorized military units to send and receive shortwave messages without the usual interference by sparks and static from electrical equipment.

This interference was eliminated by a series of specially designed filters and suppressors and grounding materials which strained out undesirable waves coming from the enkines.

Now the company claims that combat vehicles can be operated side by side and still receive messages without interference.

The peacetime use of these suppressors will be widespread, the company believes, pointing out how police patrol cars alone would benefit by their application.

Flying Twins Cause Trouble for Tutors

By International News Service

MIAMI, Fla.—As if the instructors in the Embry-Riddle School of Aviation didn't have enough trouble, along came twins. Graham and Hall Tannehill, as much alike as two peas in a pod.

"It's like seeing double when they're together," remarked the chief instructor, Rupert Keene.

Born in Staunton, Va., in 1908, the twins have always done the same things together, even to playing guard on the Staunton football team and later on the Augusta Military Academy eleven.

In 1932 Graham left Hall to open a filling station but now they're together again, and they say, "It was only natural for us to turn to aviation as a career at the same time."

Maine Towns Find Cutting Wood Pays

By The United Press

ORONO, Me.—Maine's war-cry is "Woodman, chop that tree!"

It all began in Troy when citizens discovered they could make their town forest pay off in dollars and cents as well as firewood. More than 200 cords of fuelwood and 85 cords of pulpwood cut from what once was tax-delinquet farmland sold rapidly in a fuel-scarce market.

Other towns were quick to follow the path hewn by Troy. Waterford cut 315,000 board feet of pine and received $2,000 in stumpage, while Oxford cut $2,000 worth of hemlock and pine from its town-owned land.

The Gumps — By Gus Edson

OH, MY DARLING MILLIE - MY HEART IS BOWED DOWN WITH SHAME - NOT SO MUCH FOR THE TERRIBLE FACT THAT MY BROTHER BUMLEY IS A THIEF BUT BECAUSE I KEPT IT FROM YOU WHOM I LOVE AND TRUST MOST-
OH, YOU SILLY BOY - THINK NOTHING OF IT - I LOVE YOU MORE THAN EVER - OH, MAMA - WASN'T IT FOOLISH OF DEAR BIM TO THINK THAT I'D BE ANGRY WITH HIM ABOUT THAT BROTHER OF HIS?
ARE YOU IN YOUR RIGHT MIND, CHILD? HOW CAN YOU ACT SO CALLOUS ABOUT BEING MARRIED INTO A FAMILY OF JAILBIRDS?
BUT MAMA, DEAR! LOTS OF FAMILIES HAVE BLACK SHEEP - WHY, YOUR OWN BROTHER, MY UNCLE ENTWISTLE, SPENT 5 YEARS IN JAIL!!
YOU LEAVE ENTWISTLE OUT OF THIS!!

GEORGIA IS PATRIOTIC

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK—Georgia Sothern, musical comedy dancer and comedienne, has set herself up as one-woman committee to see that service men who want to put on their own camp shows have adequate material. She has compiled a booklet of sketches and comedy bits which need a minimum of stage direction, lighting and costumes. Service men who write her in care of the Music Box Theater, New York, obtain the material free.

You Can Make These Deductions

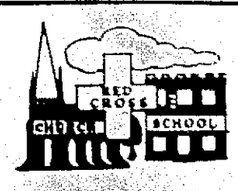
Deduct real estate taxes paid on the property you own. Only the actual taxpayer can make such deductions, not members of his family.

Bad debts can be marked off only if you prove collection attempts. This is the last year in which such deductions are permissible.

Business expenses not repaid by employer may be deducted from your tax. Union dues, trade paper subscriptions, cost of phone, etc

You can mark off losses on storm, flood, fire, shipwreck, theft. Also damages to your automobile if you can prove lack of negligence.

1942's state income taxes are deductible but not your Federal tax. Put this in line fourteen of your return and itemize in Schedule C.



Your contributions to religious, charitable, educational institutions may be subtracted from your return, for work here or abroad.

In figuring your tax, compute the money spent in 1942. Then figure how much of this sum was in sales taxes, then deduct the sales tax.

Where husband and wife are divorced or separated under court decree, alimony payments may be deducted from income of the husband.

To the extent that they exceed five percent of your net income, medical expenses may be taken off. Married maximum, $2500.

Interest on mortgage, insurance, bank, brokerage loans are deductible. Be sure interest on instalment purchases are billed separately

Take off tax cost of your auto state plates, driver's license, use tax stamps, and the state gasoline taxes, which vary nationally.

All amusement taxes are deductible, as well as club dues and transportation taxes. However, do not figure in your commutation ticket.

Don't look now but if that tax return is still around, here is a reminder of some of the deductions you are entitled to take. Check with your instruction sheet for the details. (International)

HAT CAME BACK

LARAMIE, Wyo. — The way Glenn Bennion tells it, "it was a bit of a blow."

The wind was raging and Bennion's five gallon hat blew away. A week later he received a package from Ted Samuel of Kimball, Nebr. His hat was in it.

Bennion's name and address was stamped in the band of the hat and his only explanation is that it must have blown all the way across the state of Wyoming before it came to rest in Kimball.

RED EYE ASSESSED LESS

By The United Press

SAN JOSE, Cal. — Superior Court Judge John D. Foley rates a black eye much higher than a red eye. Mrs. Antoinette G. Locker sued Angelo Ghiorzo for $4,150 for a back-hand blow that gave her a black eye. Testimony showing that the eye was merely red, Judge Foley assessed the damage at $25, saying a black eye might be worth more, but not merely a red one.

GRAIN PRICES HOLD FIRM UNDERTONE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 11 — Grain prices maintained a firm undertone today, wheat receiving support on reports of fair flour business, but trade in all pits was light.

Advances in wheat averaged less than a cent, hedge selling from the southwest holding rising tendencies in check. A report from Kansas City said the car situation, which is the vital factor controlling market movement of wheat, had improved.

BOYS GET POLITICAL CLUB

By The United Press

ST. LOUIS—The St. Louis Optimist club is sponsoring a boys' club where Missouri politicians once held sway. The club has taken over a building formerly used by the late State Senator Joe Brogan as political headquarters until his death two years ago, and has moved in workshop equipment and installed facilities for a kitchen and gymnasium. The club has been named for Thomas J. Elliot, national founder of boys' work in the Optimist international.

STEAM COOKERY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — War traffic demands have led the Canadian National Railroad to add "coffee shop" cars. The kitchen and pantry are in the middle of the car, with space for 20 diners at each end. Vegetables are cooked with steam from the locomotive. The cars, described in the Commerce Department's publication Foreign Commerce, are said to serve patrons faster than regular dining cars.

GOT 24 PARKING TICKETS

By The United Press

CHESTER, Pa. — Frank D'Ambrosio, 24, a shipyard worker, spent a night in jail and paid a heavy fine for his indifference when policemen gave him a ticket 24 times for parking in a restricted area. Tickets or not, D'Ambrosio calmly told the magistrate, "I'm frequently late for work, so I just park in the first place I find."

STOCKS TURN HIGHER AGAIN

Three-Day Decline Ends with Modest and Selective Support.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 11—Stocks attracted modest and selective support in today's market after three declining sessions.

Prices wavered at the start. Bids then appeared for steels, rubbers and specialties. While dealings were relatively slow, trends were no worse than moderately mixed near the fourth hour.

Bonds were narrow. Commodities steadied.

Among shares, Goodrich, Paramount Pictures and Bath Iron Works recorded new 1943 tops. Doing well also were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, Philip Morris, Allied Chemical and Western Union. Laggards included Baltimore & Ohio, Anaconda, Westinghouse and General Motors.

Erie certificates stumbled when the interstate commerce commission rejected the road's $14,000,000 financing proposal but regained their equilibrium.

HIVE THIEVES INCREASE

By The United Press

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — The high war prices now being paid for honey and beeswax have opened a new field for thieves and increased the duties of state apiary inspectors. The thieves steal the branded hives and the inspectors are called upon to locate them. In San Diego county alone, 240 hives, filled with honey, beeswax and bees, have been stolen and only 60 of the hives recovered to date.

THE OFFICER RATED, TOO

By International News Service

COFFEYVILLE ARMY AIR FIELD, COFFEYVILLE, Kan.—Pvt. Wesley E. (Deacon) Lundeen of St. Paul, Minn., was walking along eating an ice cream cone the other day. An officer passed him in a car. Lundeen made a snappy salute, but dropped the cone in doing so. The officer grinned, stopped his car and handed Lundeen a nickel. "Buy another cone," he said. "You rate it."

Stocks and Bonds

Stock and bond sales yesterday: stocks 928,050, bonds 15,028,700.

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS

Sealed proposals will be received at the Office of the Mayor of the Village of LaRue, Ohio, until 12:00 o'clock noon of April 3rd, 1943, for the purchase of bonds of the said Village in the aggregate sum of four thousand dollars ($4,000.00), dated the 1st day of May, 1943, said bonds will be twenty (20) in number, and numbered from one (1) to twenty (20) both inclusive, each of said bonds will be of the denomination of two hundred dollars ($200.00), and will draw interest at the rate of four per cent (4%) per annum, payable semi-annually on the 1st day of May and November of each year until the principal sum is paid. Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid or bids for said bonds based on their bearing a different rate of interest than that hereinabove specified, provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid such fraction shall be one quarter of one per cent or multiples thereof.

Said bonds are of the denomination and mature respectively as follows:

Bond No. 1 $200.00 Mature: May 1st, 1944
Bond No. 2 $200.00 Mature: November 1st, 1944

Bond No. 18 $200.00 Mature: November 1st, 1952
Bond No. 19 $200.00 Mature: May 1st, 1953
Bond No. 20 $200.00 Mature: November 1st, 1953

Said bonds are issued for the purpose of purchasing fire trucks and apparatus and equipment therefor, and under authority of the laws of Ohio, and the Uniform Bond Act, and under and in accordance with a certain Ordinance of the said Village entitled "To Issue Bonds After Submission to the Electors," passed on the 9th day of March, 1943.

Said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder for not less than the face value thereof and accrued interest. All bids must state the number of bonds bid for and the gross amount of bid and accrued interest to the date of delivery, all bids must be accompanied by a certified check, payable to the Village of LaRue, Ohio, for two hundred dollars ($200.00), upon condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds as may be issued as above set forth, within thirty days from the time of award, said check to be retained by the Village of LaRue, Ohio, if said condition is not fulfilled. The Village of LaRue, Ohio, reserves the privilege to reject any and all bids.

Bids shall be sealed and endorsed: "Bids for Fire Truck and Apparatus Bonds."

CARL F. WHITMAN, Clerk.
R. M. Wilhelm, Village Solicitor.

More Names Added To Networks' Sick List

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 11—The roster of the sick from the network kilocycles continues to grow. Two more names have been added to the list.

Eva Le Gallienne was forced to drop out of her "Horror Inc." readings on the Blu this week; Joseph Schildkraut taking her place. Lily Pons, scheduled as guest for the Don Voorhees concert on NBC next Monday, has cancelled her appearance, and Grace Moore, together with Frederick Jagel, will be heard instead.

Meanwhile, Orson Welles has been selected as Sunday night's substitute for Jack Benny, ill in Chicago.

The Blu will carry a war bond ceremony from Atlanta, Ga., in which Secretaries Knox and Morgenthau will speak Friday from 10:30 to 11 p. m.

TEXAS AIDS PILOTS

By International News Service

DALLAS, Tex.—Dallas county is making sure it contributes its quota of pilots to the Texas effort to win the war, with a fillip United States help. Civic leaders have formed an Adopt-a-Pilot club, with its aim the financing of potential Army and Navy pilots who are temporarily barred from service because of a lack of minor medical attention.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

MY FATHER'S eye twinkled at me at my indirect question, and I saw that the success of his ruse to trap Milner had put him in high good humor.

"If you could catch a glimpse of Redfield, as Adams described him to me, you would be very sure he would stage no scene at your party," my father said. "Adams said Milner went berserk after he had listened in on my conversation, his first thought being that Mary was acting the role of a Mata Hari and had induced Steve to reveal everything to her—Steve's own connection with the affair, also Milner's.

"Milner took Adams with him and went directly to Steve's room. There he found Winters, who told him about the scene Steve had been staging. Then Milner flayed Steve inch by inch, Adams said, accusing him of telling Mary about the document.

Steve Under Orders

"Milner didn't tell Steve that he himself had taken the document while Steve was still unconscious from Noel's blow, and Steve is still muddling over it. Milner told him that from now on, until they find out how much I already know, Steve is not to make a move except by Milner's permission, and must report to Milner regularly. For the rest of tonight Winters is to mount guard over Steve, so you see I speak only the truth when I tell you he will not disturb your party."

"And if Milner flies to Washington," I began hesitantly, and my father finished:

"The problem of getting Georges to the Veritzen party and back undetected is much simplified. While he's there I will see that all his small belongings are put into the armored car which later will taken him to the hideaway. Are you ready to go now?"

Then seeing the dismay on my face, he said apologetically:

"Of course not. Pray forgive me. I remember now that Georges and Halloran were to be finished with your bedroom by half after eleven, so you could dress in there in time to get to the party at midnight."

He looked at his watch and his eyebrows narrowed.

"I have kept you unconscionably," he said, "but I know how quickly you can dress."

"I will act as her maid," Katharine said. "She'll be ready on time."

"If you can make it a little before time," he said, "I shall be grateful. I don't want to give Milner time to remember his fruitless [illegible] the [illegible]wright guest expected at the Veritzen party.

His knock at the bedroom door brought Halloran.

"Have you finished with the room?" he said.

"All through," Halloran said, "and am I ready to go home! And how this young man is going to go through a party is more than I can see."

Madge's Worry Revived

"If you'd been away from parties as long as I have," Georges said with a rueful laugh, "you'd forget there ever was such a thing as fatigue."

"Maybe so—thirty years ago," Halloran answered, and hurriedly left us.

Then we all turned to Georges with frankly admiring eyes.

"He certainly has done a wonderful job," my father said, and Katharine and I echoed his comment. But to my disquiet, Georges was altogether too handsome and debonair, for I was again fearing Mary's reaction, in case Georges showed her open admiration.

A knock at the outer door startled me out of my troubled conjectures, and as my father started for the door he said to Georges:

"Into the bedroom until I see who this is. It can't be Milner," he added.

"It isn't Milner," I said, rushing past him. "I know the knock."

I opened the door the length of the chain, and finished in a joyous cry.

"It's Dicky!"

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Headache a Symptom

HEADACHE is the symptom of so many different bodily states that it cannot rank as a separate disease. It is a kind of warning bell which sounds in fatigue states, toxic states, fevers, digestive upsets, food poisoning and many other acute conditions.

Chronic headache occurs also in a variety of conditions and is more likely to be considered a separate entity. I think one of the most important things for doctors and patients to know about chronic headache is that it is seldom serious in the sense that there is any threat of life or permanent threat to health.

Another feature of headaches is that there is a distinct nervous element involved in many of them. At least, the people who have them are hypersensitive to worry. For instance, a prominent occulist tells me that he thinks headaches due to eyestrain are very rare and he thinks it is easier to treat patients on that basis.

A great many people go to work in an office, get to worrying about the strain on their eyes and when they get glasses, it comforts them to think that the glasses are going to take care of the strain; they are freed from worry and the headache disappears.

There is another form of headache which has been called indurative headache. This was described about 30 years ago by Swedish masseurs, who thought they found hard plaques in the muscles and tissues of the head and neck in people with these chronic headaches.

I have seen a number of these patients and I am unable to find the hard plaques as easily as the masseurs do. Even the masseurs say that the plaques are felt best while the patient is having an acute attack. In other words, it isn't the masseur, but the patient who feels the plaques. It is true, however, that massage of the neck and the head in these cases is followed by relief in many instances.

The purely nervous type of headache occurs in the individual who has had a headache all day, every day, for 20 years. The giveaway here is: if the head has felt that way every day, how do they know how a normal head feels? This is a kind of defense headache. Many a guy has been able to get out of work for half a lifetime and many a woman has kept her family jumping to wait on her with one of these pressure headaches.

The Stars Say—

For Friday, March 12

ACCORDING to the lunar transits this is a day on which large issues are at stake, with the energies and faculties keyed up to high tension to meet them. All should be attacked with boldness, vigor and a real sense of the responsibilities involved. Fresh efforts applied to lagging interests may also succeed.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of high pressure and probably hectic experiences, with all the forces and faculties pitched to high gear in order to put over ambitious programs. The public or community welfare may be involved, and extraordinary efforts in the line of duty or personal responsibilities should not be permitted to overtax the strength, physical and nervous.

A child born on this day may have excellent talents and skills, practical, constructive and aggressive, but may be subject to imposition or duplicity and may be disposed to overtax its strength.
